When you enter Wittenberg — when you enter any college — you in a sense leave the world of reality behind.

WITTENBERG
UNIVERSITY
NEXT RIGHT TO ENTRANCE

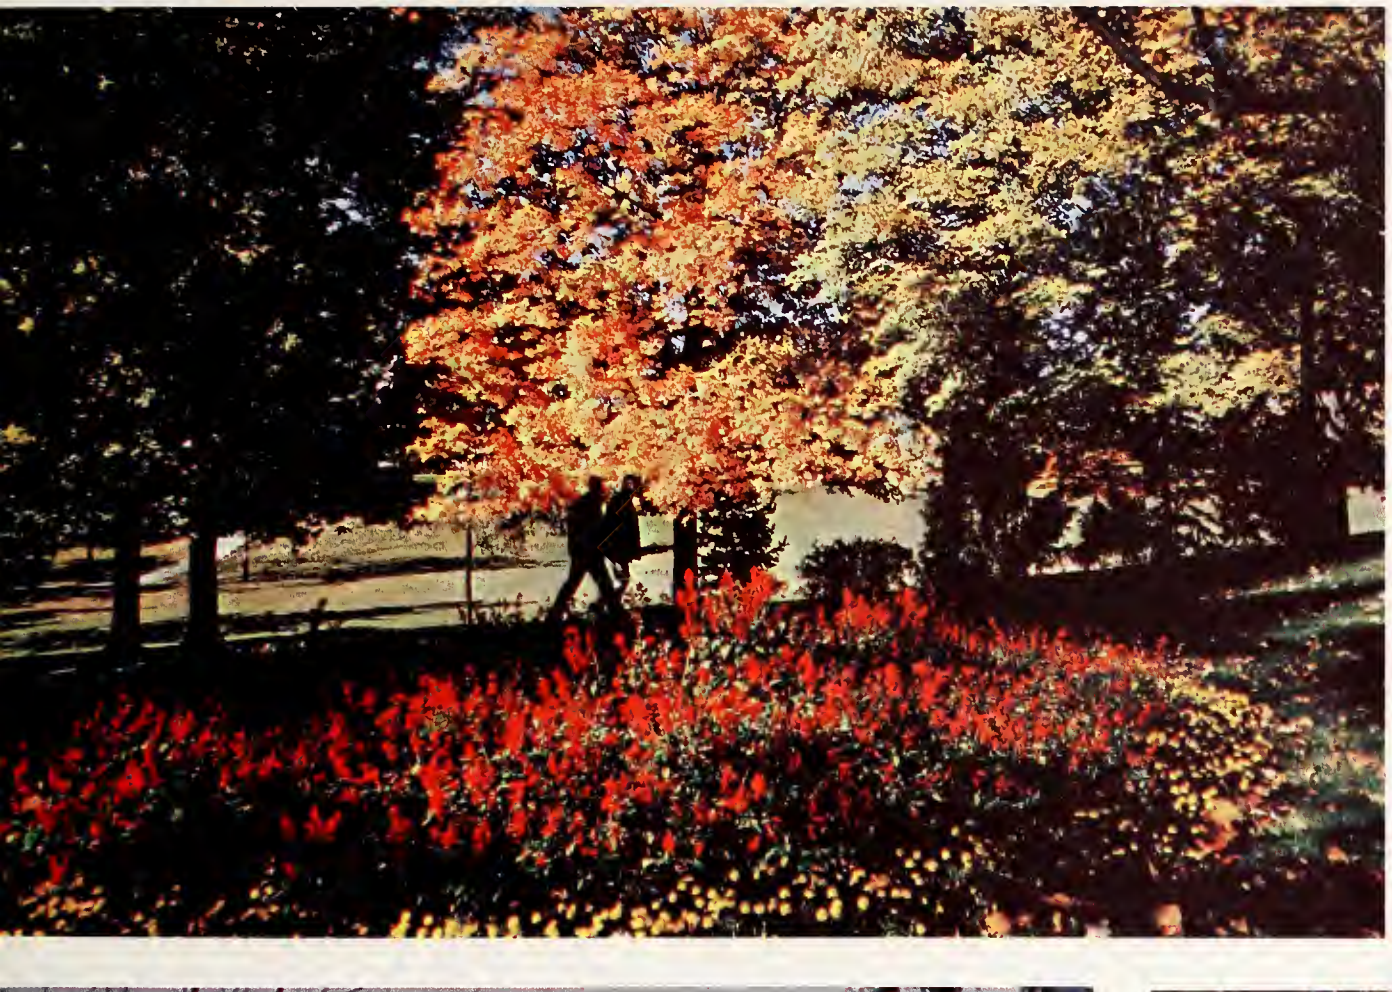
The college experience, however, is a unique part of reality; an experience within the larger reality of the world. Perhaps it is more of an experiment. For when you take the "next right," you can forsake the world for the b.s. of the dorm, the mute books of the library, the ivory tower of the classroom, the amusement of the theater, or the illusions at the bar. For the next four years much of the reality you see is through windows — the windows of the classroom and of your mind.

You're supposed to find yourself at college. But too often you may find only mirrors instead of windows.

Being within the smaller reality, the isolation of the college community, can be an anesthetizing experience. Classes may become mechanical. Avenues for a total escape from thought and responsibility are eagerly sought.

Teachers try to lay bare fact. Yet, ultimately, you establish your own reality. Is it hours at sports? Hours in social activity? Or hours of study?

URN on TIGERS



No matter what, you're in the insulated and lush world of Wittenberg University, where it's very easy to look out over the colorful catalog sights and the neon lights.

But in flashes of insight and the crush of events the larger world of reality may become a harsh yet enlightening interloper.

You're told to look within, but too often it seems you are just looking out. Until the Monday of graduation. Then the windows dissolve, the realities merge, and you step into the real world.

The Year

Fall: Autumn Vacation

As always they arrived early and they arrived late. And as always Dean Dietrich mothered them into Mother Witt. But most of the Freshmen survived (despite the mass defection of counselors to the Muskingum game) to ask all the usual questions: "Where do you meet the boys/girls?" "Where do you get a beer?" "How hard is it here?" "Where is Synod Hall?"

After being oriented by ten different counselors, administrators, and teachers, the Freshmen settled down in the comfortable pews of Weaver Chapel to hang on every word of their first encounter with a college professor. They soon found out, however, that even college teachers are human and, consequently, also learned how to cut lectures and discussions.

JOAN of ARC

For the first time in years the University assigned roommates without first matching them by computer. The results, however, were pretty much the same: most got along but some found themselves paired with either slobs or perfectionists.

Another long-awaited treat was the annual introduction to Saga Food Service. As usual, the first few weeks lines were long and slow. But soon the lines dwindled and regular food inspection for metal strips and flavor began. The men from Myers Hall scoured the community for handouts, but cheerfully donated the loot to needy families.

By midterms everyone had made the familiar trek to the friendly Springfield merchants and the even friendlier Springfield bars. They had also saved enough money to grab a Greyhound to Dayton or Columbus for some real rest and relaxation.

Dorm life both attracts and repels. For girls there is a new freedom from parental supervision yet archaic restrictions on hours and weekends. For men there are weekday maids and weekend messes. This year even men had to carry keys as apartment dwellers found dorm lounge furniture to their liking.

But dorms do provide companionship, and many late-night card games and bull sessions contribute more to a student's all-around education than an eight o'clock class ever could — even if you had gone.

Fall (continued)

To balance the hoopla of the football season and fall rush, the University scheduled many cultural events throughout the first term. September naturally brought the Freshman Seminar. The 450th Anniversary of the Reformation occurred at the end of October, but the festivities and speakers were ignored by the majority of Wittenberg students. The "Rimers of Edritch" was the first production given by the theatre, while "The Holy Lands" was the first stop on the World Around Us Series.

The last stop for students before finals was Thanksgiving Day with its no classes. Once again many students and teachers defied the faculty's edict on Friday classes and left for home.

Homecoming was the same as it always is. Sun poured down all over the campus, the Phi Psi's won the Homecoming display contest (KD's grabbed the sorority trophy, and Woodlawn-Myers captured the dorm prize), and Wittenberg won the football game 37-0. Ann Larson, junior, was crowned Homecoming queen. New alumni returned, trying to look as collegiate or as successful as possible. They haunted all the old spots, had the mandatory coffee-buffet-rehash of old times, and silently wondered how so much could change. But most of this change was ultimately due to the change of generous alumni, new and old.

The rest of the football season had its ups and downs. First the Tigers lost by one point to arch-rival Ohio Wesleyan to spoil their undefeated season and top ten ranking. But in the Dad's Day contest against Akron the Tigers got their revenge 14-0. On that soggy sweet day the Syncopates didn't melt, but they almost drowned.

Winter: Time Out for Study

Winter term usually means two things for Wittenberg: Rush and study. For upperclass Greeks all the repetitious I.F.C. and Pan-Hel meetings culminate and the real nitty-gritty of evaluation and blackballing begin. Freshmen get their chance to respond to dirty rush, clean rush, or no rush.

Then, after the redefinition of friendships, most Wittenberg students actually turn to study, since it's too cold or too wet to do much of anything else. It's easier to study, too. Since it's too dark to go to your 8:00 you get plenty of rack-time for those all-nighters.

To get away from it all, students either "trayed" in Alma Mater Hollow, slid down to Fog's to get warm, or went skiing at Mansfield. Most of the time Fog's won out because of the weather.

The one person who wasn't stopped by the weather was Deputy Dog. As usual, he handed out tickets by day and frequented Mr. Donut by night.

Winter (continued)

Freshmen get their first taste of in-person registration in the winter. They soon find that all those hours of intricate schedule planning are a waste as everything either easy or interesting is already closed. Even petitions must be bargained for. By the end of the line you have no cards and a lot of questions.

No preference is shown in the bookstore, however. Seniors vie with Sophomores for Bics and books that always seem to cost too much and be too big. After finally finding as many as you can, you get in a long line and wait your turn to unbalance your checkbook. In about a half an hour you walk out wondering how you'll ever read all of them in ten weeks, much less read the 50 pages that are due tomorrow in the book that was sold out.

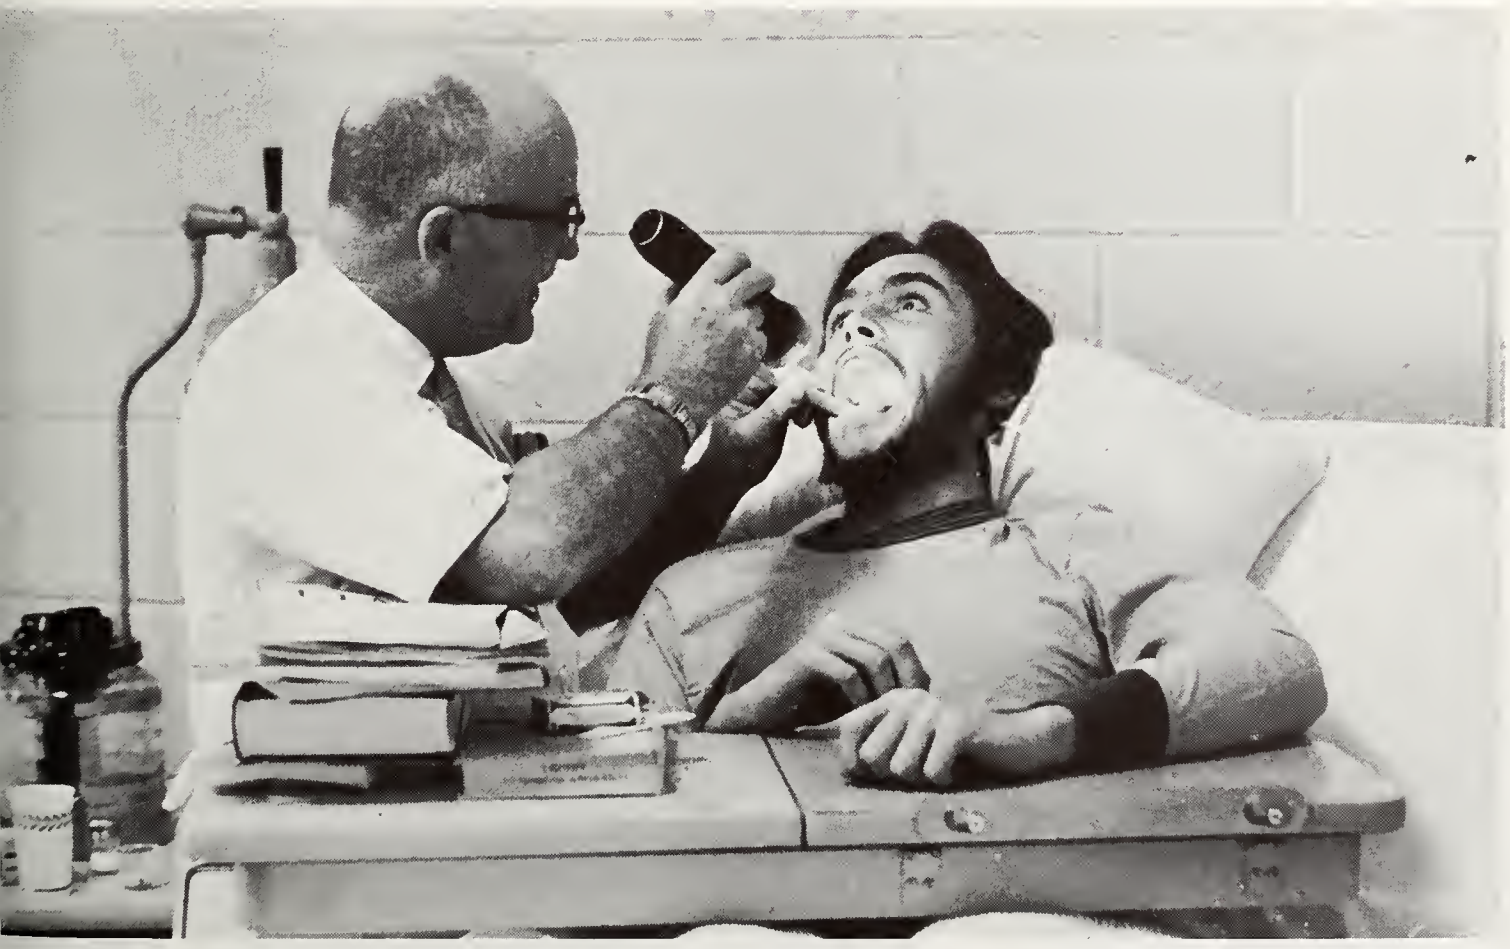
The campus climate gave rise to great and not-so-great discussion during winter term. The faculty, student, administration Campus Climate Commission held numerous meetings and put out questionnaires. At last word, the last word on the campus will come out next year.

This year the blacks at Wittenberg gave the word to the whites. The January "Negro in America" Seminar not only cleared the air a little, but also stung some WASPS. Dick Gregory received a mixed reaction but at least roused some speculation on things other than the basketball team.

The campus climate also brought an influx of students to the infirmary with an influenza epidemic. Teachers were hit, too, and many classes were cancelled.

Organs of the campus climate continued to be the radio station WUSO, the Torch newspaper, and the Witt yearbook.

TORCH



Winter (continued)

Winter term also meant music at Wittenberg. The Witt Choir gave its annual hootenanny before a packed Field House in January. Country Joe and the Fish was a long jump from "Up, Up, and Away," but Antioch is not so far from Springfield. The minority of Wittenberg buttondowns attending watched the visitors more than they listened to the Fish.

The Wittenberg Symphony Orchestra took a break in the winter but provided fine concerts in the Fall and Spring.

The Witt choir spent its Spring vacation on an Eastern tour instead of basking in the Florida sun.

Winter (continued)

For many students winter finals were the best hope of the year to raise the old accume. In the fall there are always two more terms and by spring it is too late — and the weather is always too nice. But winter term is when the overheated library is welcome.

So the big push begins. Laundry stays in the packets. Dirty clothes and glasses pile up. Class notes are really read for a change. Monday reading day allows one last Saturday night blow-out.

But inevitably Tuesday arrives. Students pass each other in a glassy-eyed parade. Some even carry books and notes to the very end. Profs make the expected remarks and students laugh or groan appropriately one last time. Then for three hours you try and fill at least one bluebook with all you know and then anything you can think of and then pure bunk. In between some find time to finish either take-homes or overdue term papers.

By Friday your number is posted, grade and all, but you're really too tired to yet care.

Spring: No Time for Study

Spring is the longest and hardest term. But it is also the best. You knew the weather had to be getting better when you began to see the ATO's perched at their windows, water balloons or taunts ready for anything that moved.

The term really began with Turfing Season. Hundreds of blankets, airing by day, carpeted the hollows, the cemetery, and even the rooftops by night.

After the winter struggle to brace up the old acum, you accepted fate and either signed up for three mouses or for the courses you blew in the fall. In any case the weather took its toll; most students pretended to study while taking in the rays.

Another great thing about the weather; you didn't have to fight for a place in women's lounges for those last ten minutes before 1 a.m.

Spring (continued)

Ducks were the Big Pet on Campus this year. And the enormous amount of rain dumped on Wittenberg during the spring was one big reason why they thrived.

Students also managed to make the best of the wretched weather. Few people, especially the maids, will ever forget the great mud slides of '68. For as soon as the truly ominous clouds and lightning broke, everyone headed for the hills. Singly or in chains, students shot down the slopes to wipe out in a pool of mud. The next day was always one of limps and groans, fabulous stories, and unbelievably dirty restrooms.

By June a ten-yard ribbon of mud adorned the hill near the chapel. No doubt, the grass will creep back; but no doubt, it will rain like hell again — and again.

Spring (continued)

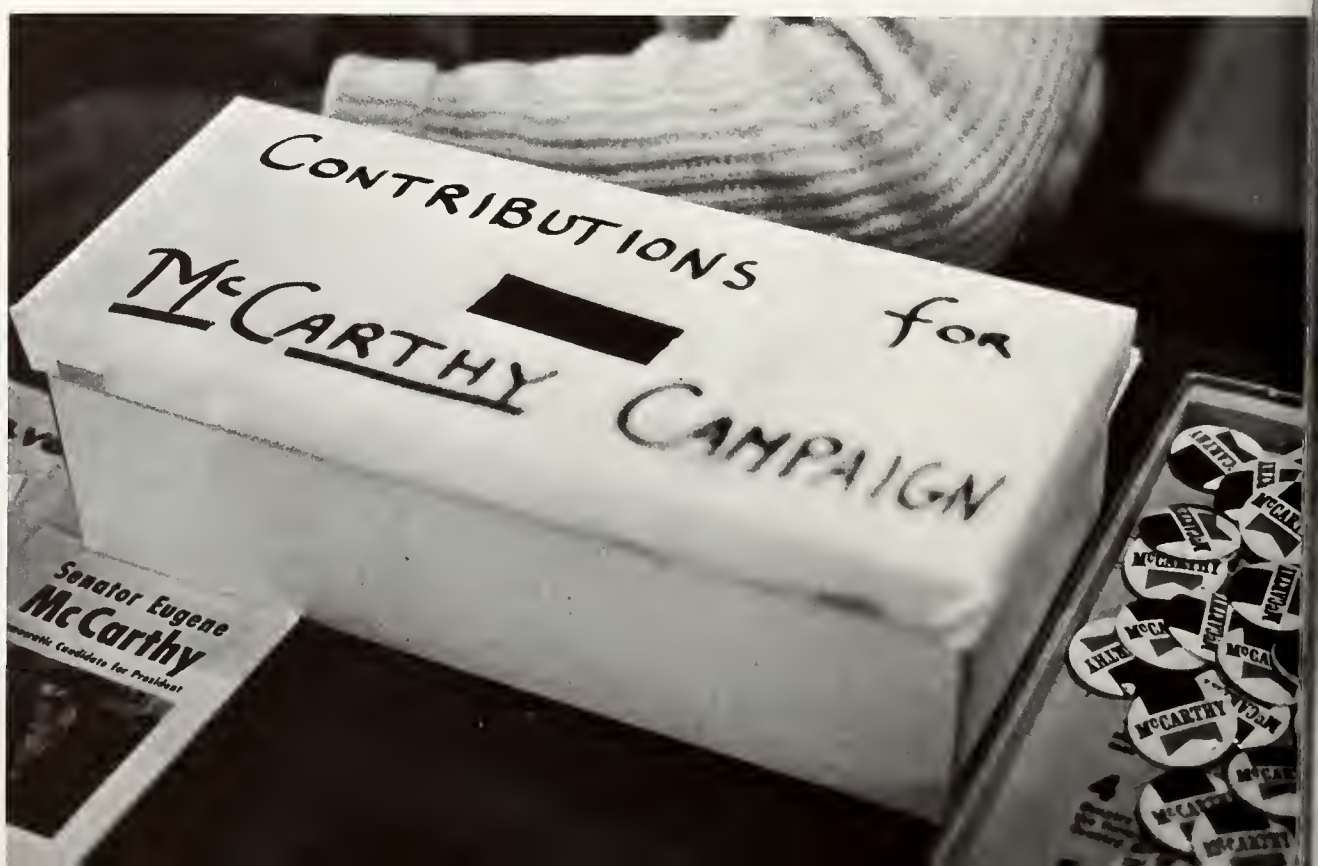
With the blossoming of Spring the campus seemed to come alive during the third term. For once activism on many fronts replaced the apathy that everyone seems to talk about.

The national political campaigns generated much campus activity. Students donated both their hard-earned money and time to various candidates. Others took time to report or analyze.

The death of Martin Luther King shook a campus that had already been spreading groundless rumors. White students tried to share and understand the depths of grief expressed by the black students. The closest moment of communion came at the Memorial Service held at Weaver Chapel. There was no color at that service – only sorrow and hope.

The Academic Day of Conscience was a nice try, but failed as a forceful gesture because students were not highly involved. Two days later, the Festival for Peace and Justice – the Student Strike – was much more successful, stimulating spontaneous debate and minor violence.

One of the last campus-wide activities was the annual spring clean-up before Parent's Weekend. Grass was mowed, holes patched, rooms cleaned, and amazingly, paper towels appeared in the restrooms.



TO ALL WITTENBERG FACULTIES, ADMINISTRATIVE AND STAFF PERSONNEL AND STUDENTS

The Springfield community Memorial Service for Martin Luther King will be held in Weaver Chapel at 2:00 P. M. on Tuesday, April 9.

All of us are invited.

Student Senate's year was no surprise. Under weak leadership, things generally went from bad to worse. As usual, attendance was pretty poor – both by the representatives and the students. Junior keys (finally approved) and the status of W.R.H.C. provided moments of hilarity and exasperation. The regular two-year weeding of the constitution was also completed.

But footdragging and Senate carelessness led to a near total fiasco. After a referendum on the new constitution passed – which established certain new positions – and students had turned in completed petitions and hung up all their clever signs, a case was brought before the Student Court against the election procedure. The Court upheld the illegality of the elections (misprinted ballot, inadequate publicity) throwing the election into turmoil and early June.

At last word, there will be some kind of Senate next year and a new Court set-up. Hopefully, and almost inevitably, both will be for the better.

The Wittenberg student is eminently practical. Since the University purports to have an awful lot of light to pass on, students naturally are pragmatic in their selection of extracurricular offerings.

This characteristic stood out especially well in the attendance at the various symposiums and chapel lectures and the venerable Quest and Question Series. The topic for this year's series, "Certainty and Uncertainty," seemed a bit nebulous to the average hardheaded Wittenberger. Happily for the participants, hardly anyone showed up to share their embarrassment and laughter at the final panel discussion.

The day before, however, nearly all the pre-law and political science majors had turned out to hear and question Alum Earl Morris on Wittenberg's Law Day. But what most everybody appreciated about these events was the extra study and rack time as a result of period cancellations.

Wittenberg's annual Rites of Spring were a mixed bag this year. Pick and Pen and Skull and Chain tapped before more squirrels than people; Dean Heusinkveld even wondered if all the right people would show. Some didn't. Mortar Board, Blue Key, and Ivy Ring chose to interrupt quiet hours, dinner, and sleep to tap.

In its second year the Festival of the Arts was both highly diversified and interesting. The Honors Convocation on Friday was as poorly attended as ever, but all the honors were well deserved, especially the golf clubs presented to everybody's favorite, Dean Long. Julie Remsberg was named Alma Mater, the highest honor a woman can receive at Wittenberg. The Oak and Ivy orations had to be given under leaden skies. Saturday, the rains began that drenched Parents' Weekend and then lasted throughout the rest of the term. But parents came in droves, dutifully taking their offspring out to restaurants and letting them use the car. By Sunday, all their wallets and food packages had been unloaded.

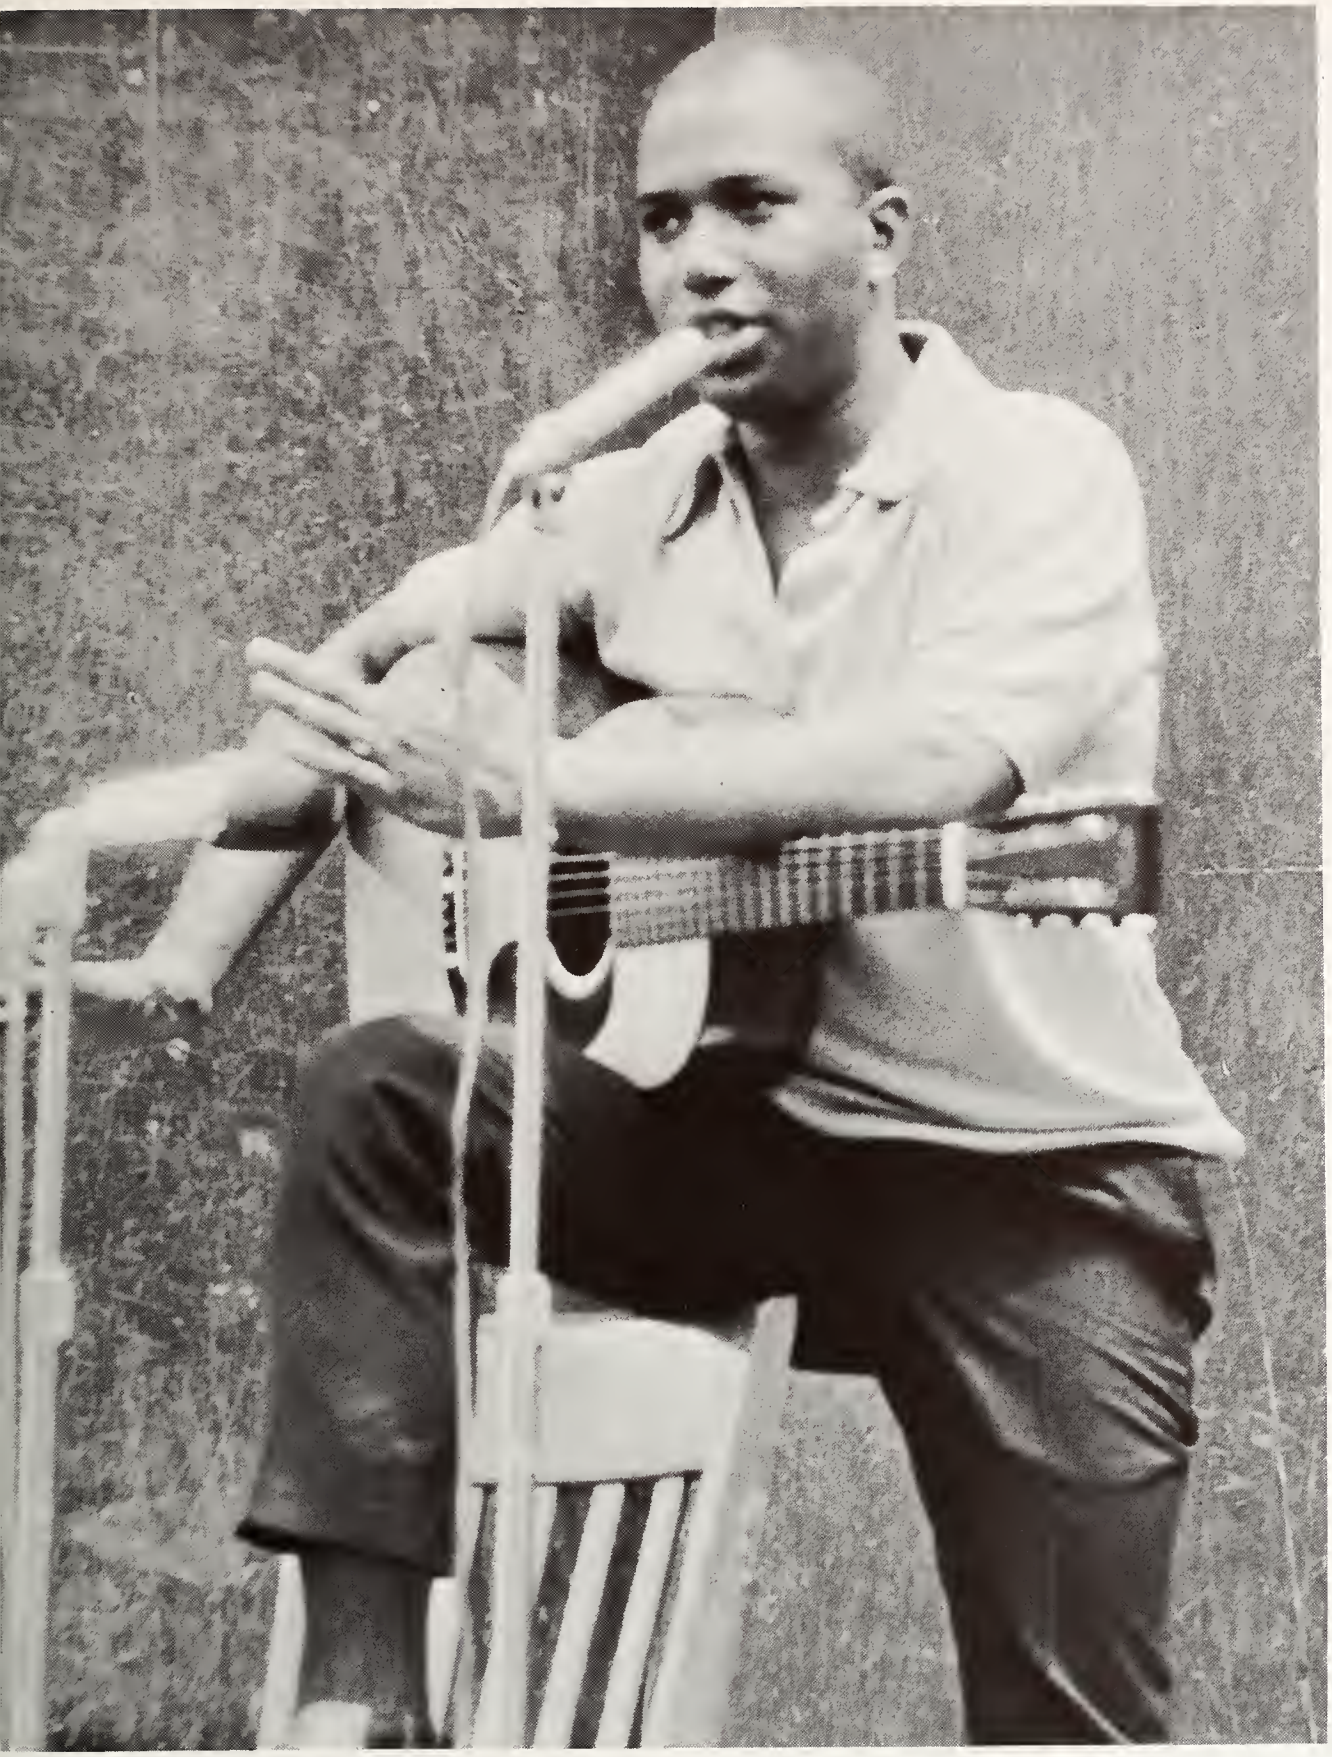
W-Day is one of the real highlights of Spring Term. Although the faculty decides the actual date by a secret vote any day will really do.

This year W-Day was especially good. For the first time the holiday was announced by a fire truck the night before. Thus, students could either catch up on late work, head downtown, or attend the Union dance knowing that they could sleep late. Other activities were a chalk-in, movies, balloons, games and prizes.

The highlight of W-Day was the concert given by Josh White in Alma Mater Hollow. White drew a very large crowd and won them over with his moving, vigorous, and humorous pieces. A personable man, White said he felt his first duty was to entertain, not promote a message. Whatever White stood for, Wittenbergers both enjoyed and listened to him.



The final event of Spring term and of the year is graduation.

In exceptionally hot but beautiful weather Wittenberg conferred 550 earned and five honorary degrees on Monday, June 10. The largest class in the University's history was composed of 543 seniors and seven persons who earned Master of Sacred Music degrees. Forty-four of the seniors were graduated with honors.

Highlights of the exercise were Eugene C. Patterson's commencement address centering on the two problems of bringing peace to a post-colonial world and helping the poor and the surprise Doctor of Humane Letters degree given to President Stauffer. In addition, a bound copy of the address given at the University of Wittenberg in Germany in 1503, with translation, was given to Wittenberg by Valparaiso (Ind.) University.

Graduation was much more solemn than joyful this year. The death of Senator Robert F. Kennedy touched everyone in a different way. Some didn't even care to graduate while others were stirred by Eugene Patterson's call to emulate the example of the late Senator in bringing intellect into play in engaging issues of the day.

Administration, Faculty

President John N. Stauffer

HIS MEMORANDUM

The invitation to serve at Juniata was so totally unexpected but, once it was received, I could not put it aside. I knew that this is what I must do with my remaining years.

Mrs. Stauffer and I will leave Wittenberg with regret, but we shall go gladly and eagerly to this new opportunity for service to our Alma Mater. The prospect is indeed the most exciting that we have ever faced.

Although I go eagerly to give my remaining years to my own college, I leave Wittenberg with genuine regret because of what this great institution has meant to me and my family. We have called this place our home for twenty-one years that have been marked by happiness and by deeply rewarding friendships.

I leave with a sense of gratitude for the privilege of doing work that has been so utterly engaging and rewarding. I leave with unqualified confidence in Wittenberg's future, for if one extrapolates the progress of the last twenty years built upon the sturdy foundation of the century that preceded he cannot help but be confident. I leave with the earnest hope that there will be a persistent concern for advancing academic strength and for continued commitment to Christian purpose.

The five years of President Stauffer (June, 1963-August, 1965) have seen massive change within the university. For the most part he has satisfied students in his approval of campus liberalization (senior and junior keys, apartment visitation, students on university committees) and has satisfied faculty, the Board of Directors, alumni, and parents.

All regret the loss of such a fine, dedicated, and progressive president and wish to thank him for the guidance and efforts provided in the interest of the academic and Christian community. In turn, Dr. Stauffer's interest in Wittenberg will be undiminished, and his good wishes for its community will remain unchanged.

My greatest gratification of recent years has been our unquestioned progress in advancing Wittenberg as an academic community. Unnumbered dedicated persons have made it possible for Wittenberg to have now the strongest faculty that has ever been assembled here. The library has had an upward surge in quality of services, and in the increase of its contents by fifty percent in a five-year period. Students come to Wittenberg because they want a liberal education, and they remain persistent in their commitment to that important purpose. They are showing a far healthier concern for the quality of their own learning and for the use of their learning in meeting the needs of the world. Awareness, concern, and commitment are being invested with new meaning as students learn how to learn and how to live.

We have had an opportunity, too, to demonstrate in action the full meaning of freedom of expression, both in our speakers policy and in freedom of the student press. With this we have all learned more fully the nature of the search for truth and have come to realize the responsibility of each mind to evaluate objectively and to answer responsibly.

Biology

Chairman: Elizabeth E. Powelson, Associate Professor; A.B., Oberlin College; M.A., Wellesley College; Ph.D., Indiana University.

The Biology department prepares majors for careers in research, teaching, medicine, dentistry, and related health sciences.

The expanded and additional facilities now available in the New Science Building have greatly enhanced the opportunities for both students and faculty. Students beginning in Biology 101 are now encouraged to work on independent study projects.

A grant of $7,750 from the Research Corporation of America in addition to $13,600 from Wittenberg provided for the purchase of an electron microscope and funds for research.

Emmett T. Bodenberg, Professor; B.S., Capital University; M.S. Ohio State University; Ph.D., University of Washington.

Nathan J. Bolls, Assistant Professor; B.S., M.S., Ph.D., Kansas State University.

Gloria Cassens, Assistant Professor; B.S., Northwestern University; M.A., Indiana University.

Richard Crang, Assistant Professor; B.S., Eastern Illinois State University; M.A., State University of South Dakota; Ph.D., University of Iowa.

Ronald A. DeLanglade, Assistant Professor; A.B., Wabash College; M.S., Ph.D., Purdue University.

John B. Hitt, Instructor, B.S., Wittenberg; M.S., Ohio State University.

Louis J. Laux, Assistant Professor; A.B., M.A., Hofstra College.

Donald E. Watson, Assistant Professor; B.A., University of Colorado; M.S., University of Hawaii; Ph.D., University of Nebraska

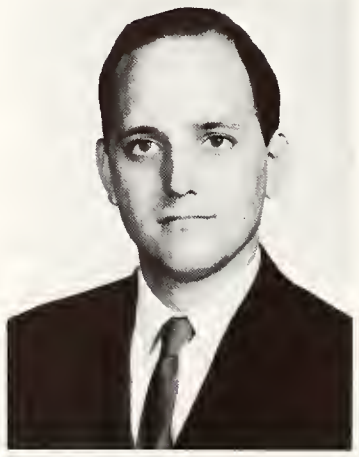
Business Administration

Chairman: Woodrow Wilson, Associate Professor; B.S., Ohio State University; B.S. in Ed., Ohio State University; M.A., Ed.D., University of Denver.

The course offerings in the Business Administration department are designed to provide understanding and insight into the fundamental areas of production, marketing, and finance, and to develop competencies in accounting, business statistics, and communications. During the school year many business firms send recruiters to Wittenberg seeking qualified majors.

The Alpha chapter of Tau Pi Phi, the national business administration honorary, was founded in order to encourage scholarship, to bring students into closer contact with outstanding businessmen and relevant commercial practices, and to encourage idealism and good ethics in business. Membership requirements include four courses in business administration and/or economics with a grade point average of 3.0 or better and an over-all cumulative average of 2.7 or better.

Helen Deaton, Assistant Professor; B.S., Wittenberg; M.A., Wayne State University.



Raymond Diggle, Instructor; B.S., M.B.A., University of Michigan.

Panayotis F. Pappas, Instructor; A.B., J.D., Ohio State University.

Floyd G. Pratt, Professor; B.S., United States Military Academy; M.B.A., Leland Stanford University.

Chemistry

The Chemistry courses at Wittenberg are aimed to give the student a grounding in chemistry adequate to his particular need. Chemistry majors can take courses which will fulfill the requirements for certification by the American Chemical Society and be fully qualified for graduate work. If his aim is not graduate school, the major can follow a course of study as an auxiliary to his professional objectives. Within the department the emphasis falls on fundamental principles and research orientation in laboratory work.

Grants received from the National Science Foundation and the Petroleum Research Fund make it possible for students to participate in research projects during the academic year or during the summer. It is the hope of the department that every student who has the interest and the capacity for independent work in chemistry can have an opportunity to take part in such programs.

Chairman: Paul K. Glasoe, Professor; A.B., St. Olaf College; Ph.D., University of Wisconsin.

Robert S. Borden, Assistant Professor; B.S., Mount Union College; Ph.D., Michigan State University.

Howard M. Curry, Professor; B.S., Northeastern University; M.A., Ph.D., Boston University.

Rolf Hahne, Assistant Professor; B.S., Stanford University; M.A., Columbia University; Ph.D., University of Wisconsin.

David Westneat, Associate Professor; B.S., Allegheny College; Ph.D., University of Pittsburgh.

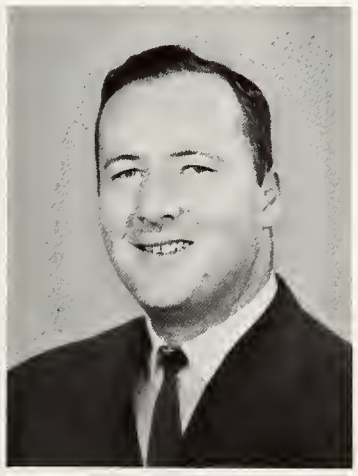
Economics

The central purpose of the Economics department is to educate and orient students whose primary interest lies in economic issues. The department also serves as a foundation for graduate study in economics and for careers in law, business, and government service.

The Witt-Econ Forum is a student-directed club established to add realism to the study of economics in the classroom. Throughout the year, members present and discuss various topics which have economic significance.

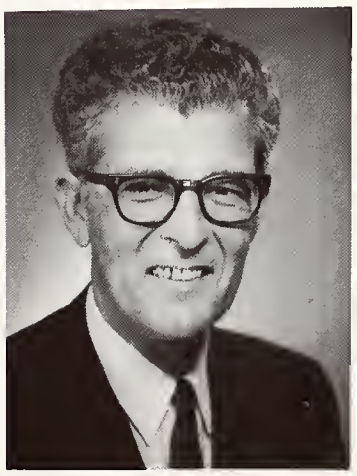
The Economics department gained added distinction in March when Chairman Robert Schultz won the Award for Distinguished Teaching.

Chairman: Robert P. Schultz, Associate Professor; A.B., M.B.A., University of Denver.

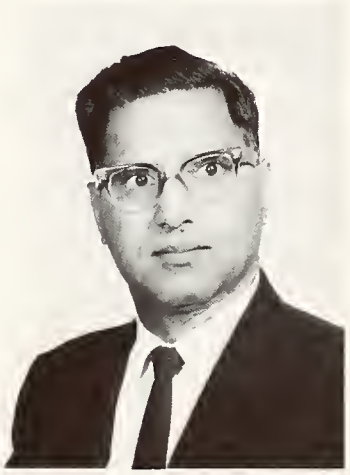


William M. Baird, Assistant Professor, A.B., Wittenberg; M.A., Ph.D., Ohio State University.

Milton L. Glick, Associate Professor; A.B., New York University; M.A., Ph.D., University of Chicago.



Richard E. Liming, Assistant Professor; A.B., Miami University; M.A., Harvard.



Baldwir Singh, Associate Professor; A.B., M.A., in Economics, M.A. in Political Science, Panjab University; Ph.D., The American University.

Education

Chairman: Ronald E. Eick, A.B., M.A., Ph.D., Michigan State University.

Edwin Heusinkveld, Associate Professor; A.B., Wheaton College; M.A., Ph.D., University of Iowa.

Margaret Kantzer, Assistant Professor; A.B., Wittenberg; M.A., Ohio State University.

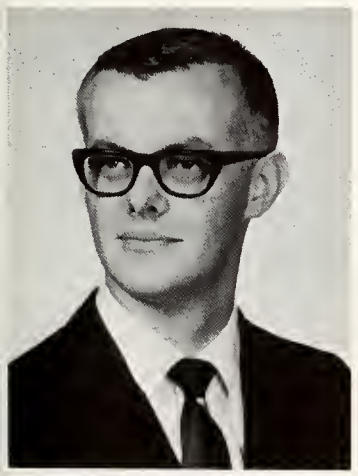
Nancy B. Lightman, Instructor; A.B., M.A., Boston University.

John E. Slaymaker, Professor; A.B., Park College, M.A., University of Minnesota; Ed.D., University of Colorado.

Norman S. Gilbert, Assistant Professor; B.S., Northern Illinois University; M.Ed., Ed.D., University of Illinois.

Roy M. Hickes, Professor; B.S., Indiana State Teachers College; M.Ed., Pennsylvania State University; Ed.D., University of Pittsburgh.

Larry Jones, Assistant Professor; B.B.A., University of Minnesota; A.B., B.S., M.S., Mankato State College.



J. Michael Palardy, Instructor; A.B., M.A., Ohio State University

Hulda Sallee, Assistant Professor; B.S., University of Cincinnati; M.A., Michigan State University.

Francis Silvernail, Assistant Professor; A.B., M.A., Michigan State University.

Albertina Weinlander, Associate Professor; B.S., Central Michigan College; M.A., Ph.D., University of Michigan.

Continuing to keep pace with modern education, Wittenberg's Education department this year opened the Learning-Materials Center, equipped for increased use of television in teacher education. In addition, the Reading Clinic underwent a change in objective – away from the training of remedial clinicians and toward the improvement of classroom teaching where reading problems exist.

This year, more emphasis on research in the function of teaching in the process of teacher education has resulted in the design of a comprehensive four-year teacher education program. Students may seek certification at the elementary level, in specific subject areas at the secondary level, or in special fields such as music, art, or remedial teaching.

Department members have been more extensively involved in consulting with school districts in curriculum revision. Also, there has been greater attention to the planned experience in the "inner city" school. The department also serves as advisor to the two education organizations on campus, the Wittenberg University Student Education Association, and Kappa Delta Epsilon, national education fraternity.

English

Chairman: William C. Coyle, Professor; B.S., Edinboro State College; M.Litt.; M.A., University of Pittsburg; Ph.D., Western Reserve University.

The many activities of the English department all center around its role of bringing students an understanding and enjoyment of the many phases of literature. Another important function is the department's role in providing elementary literature, theatre, and the speech arts as a background for students, whatever their future plans or interests. Bringing literature closer to the students were Hollis Sommers, Stephen Spender, Louis Simpson, and Gena Ford who presented readings of their work.

Dr. Herbert Merrill was on sabbatical leave during the Fall Term to complete work on a novel, while Dr. James King came back from the Near East and gave his first course in Islamic culture.

This spring twenty-five students accompanied by Dr. Conrad Balliet spent fourteen weeks in England traveling and studying at the University of Exeter. These students attended lectures in the area of literary criticism, poetry, nineteenth century English novel, seventeenth century English drama, and a special series of lectures on the works of Shakespeare.

The University Theatre spent another busy year presenting outstanding productions, including "Rimer's of Eldritch," "She Stoops to Conquer," and "The Good Woman of Setzuan." The debate teams competed in several regional and district tournaments.

Engineering Science

Frank D. White, Associate Professor; A.B., Iowa State Teachers College; M.A., State University of Iowa, B.S., Ohio State University.

Wittenberg students may enroll in a cooperation or binary program in pre-engineering developed in conjunction with Case and Columbia University. Related course offerings in the program include technical drawing, graphics, and statics.

Family Living

Audrey Johnson, Assistant Professor; B.S., M.S., Ohio State University.

The Family Living Program equipped students with the skills necessary for successful homemaking and family life.

The program terminated at the end of the 1967-1968 with the retirement of Mrs. Johnson.

Geography

Chairman: Everett Bush, Associate Professor; B.S., State College, Westfield, Massachusetts; M.A., Clark University.

Studying man and his relationship to his physical and cultural environment are the main objectives of the Geography department. Each year courses are offered in the areas of economic, political and urban geography, regional geography, climatology, and cartography.

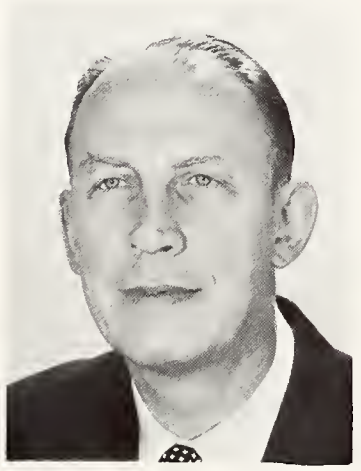
Martin Johnson, Assistant Professor; A.B., M.A., Syracuse University.

Andrea Mayher, Instructor; B.S., California State College, California, Pennsylvania; M.A., Bowling Green State University.

Fine Arts

Chairman: John Schlump, Assistant Professor; B.F.A., B.S. in Ed., M.A., Michigan State University.

Don Dunifon, Assistant Professor; B.F.A., Wittenberg; M.A., Columbia University.

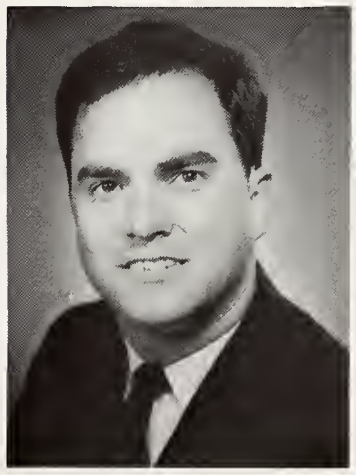


Elmo Jurkat, Associate Professor; A.B., B.S., Cedarville College; M.A., Ohio State University.

The Fine Arts department offers training in drawing, painting, print-making, ceramics, sculpture, and commercial art and sponsors art displays, sales, and the annual exhibition of senior work.

This year Crabill Art Center received a new lighting system and sculpture studio.

James LaMalfa, Instructor; B.S., M.S M.F.A., University of Wisconsin.

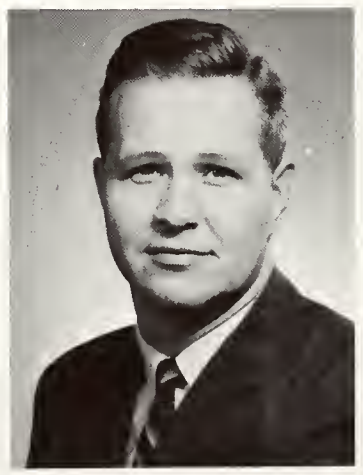


Jack Osbun, Instructor; B.F.A., Ohio State University; M.F.A., Instituto Allede, Mexico.

Ralston Thompson, Professor, A.B., Wittenberg; M.F.A., Ohio State University.

Geology

Chairman: Floyd Nave, Associate Professor; A.B., Augustana College; M.S., State University of Iowa.



Thomas Gerrard, Assistant Professor; B.S., University of Cincinnati; M.S., Miami University; Ph.D., University of Arizona.

Robert Minning, Graduate Assistant, A.B., Wittenberg.

Harold Sundelius, Assistant Professor; A.B., Augustana College; M.S., Ph.D., University of Wisconsin.

The purpose of the Geology department is to provide the non-major with some of the fundamental principles and concepts of geology for a greater understanding about the earth on which he lives. To the geology major the department gives a strong foundation for a future in some area of professional geology.

This year the Geology department moved into spacious quarters in the New Science Building. The year also saw the completion of the two-year NSF Undergraduate Scientific Equipment Grant. The $16,600 was used for the purchase of x-ray diffraction equipment.

The Geology Club, sponsored by the department, made numerous field trips this year. States visited included Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Arkansas, and Missouri.

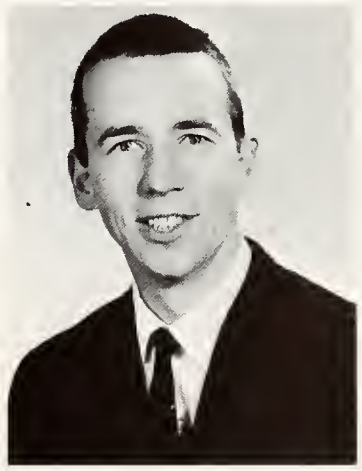
During the year, visiting speakers discussed oceanography, sedimentation, volcanology, and geomagnetism.

Physics

Chairman: Arthur Lutz, Professor; B.S., Capital University; M.S., Ph.D., Ohio State University.

Jack Flinner, Associate Professor; A.B., Wittenberg; M.S., University of Illinois; Ph.D., Ohio State University.

Wallace Giffen, Assistant Professor; B.S., Westminster College; M.S., Syracuse University.



M. Paul Hagelberg, Professor; B.S., M.S., Ph.D., Michigan State University.

The Physics department offers a twelve course sequence which serves the needs of pre-engineering students, as well as those students planning a career in physics or related sciences or mathematics at the secondary level. In addition, a two course sequence presents the fundamentals of physics without calculus. A single course, discussing both physics and astronomy, fills the cultural gap for the non-science major.

With the completion of the New Science Building the Physics department now occupies a lecture room, five laboratories for teaching purposes, four laboratories for research and a shop.

Health and Physical Education

Chairman: Howard E. Maurer, Professor; A.B., Wittenberg; M.A., Columbia University; Ph.D., Ohio State University.

The ever-increasing scope of the Health and Physical Education department includes (1) service courses, which include instruction and participation for at least six terms for all men and women in activities of which over half aim at providing skills and interests fitted to post-graduation years; (2) intramural programs; (3) inter-collegiate athletics; and (4) recreational periods, provided for both faculty and students when time and space permit.

The department also provides training and experience for students who seek careers in teaching health and physical education, in athletic coaching, and in directing community or institutional recreational programs.

Jane Hartwig, Instructor; A.B. University of South Carolina; M.S., Ohio University.

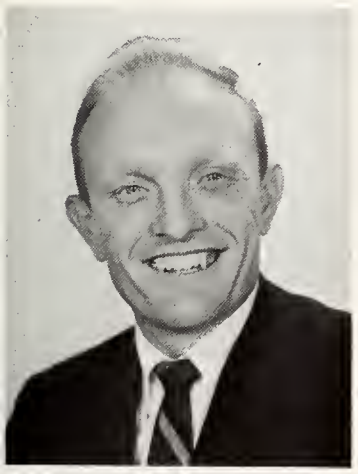
Connie Koehler, Instructor; A.B., M.S., Wittenberg.

Gary Tranquill, Instructor; B.S. in Ed., M.Ed., Wittenberg.

Margaret Armstrong, Instructor; B.S., M.S., Wittenberg.

Betty J. Dillahunt, Assistant Professor; B.S. in Ed., Wittenberg; M.A., Ohio State University.

William M. Edwards, Associate Professor, Director of Athletics; B.S. in Ed., Wittenberg, M.S., Columbia University.



F. Davis Maurer, Assistant Professor; A.B., Denison University; M.A., Ohio State University.

Eldon J. Miller, Instructor; B.S. in Ed., M.Ed., Wittenberg.

Ronald Murphy, Instructor; B.S., Wittenberg; M.Ed., Wittenberg.

Richard A. Fahrney, Instructor; B.S., Ohio Wesleyan; M.A., University of Maryland.

Caroline Zimmerman, Instructor; B.S., Ohio State University; M.S., MacMurray College.

History and Political Science

Chairman: Robert Hartje, Professor; B.A., M.A., Ph.D., Vanderbilt University.

Charles Chatfield, Assistant Professor; A.B., Monmouth College; M.A., Ph.D., Vanderbilt University.

Margaret Ermarth, Professor; A.B., Wittenberg; M.A., Ohio State University.

Charles O'Brien, Assistant Professor; A.B., M.A., Notre Dame University; Ph.D., Columbia University.

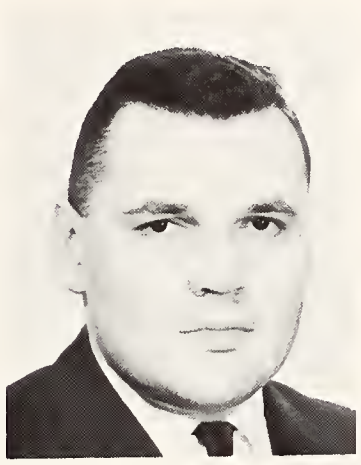
Joseph O'Connor, Assistant Professor; A.B., Notre Dame University; M.A., University of Virginia.

John Baines, Assistant Professor; A.B., Washburn University; M.A., Ph.D., University of Wisconsin.

Housed in Zimmerman Hall, the History and Political Science department offers survey courses in the various national areas, advanced courses which take advantage of the particular interests and training of the professors, reading courses for independent study, and a philosophy of history course.

This year, the department is again sponsoring the Washington Semester Plan, which will enable four students to study at the American University for one term next year. Within the department, Dr. Chatfield received a Mershon Grant from Ohio State for 1968-69, and Dr. O'Brien was appointed dean of the Regional Center for International Education in Switzerland for two years.

Cynthia Behrman, Assistant Professor; A.B., Barnard College; M.A., University of California; Ph.D., Boston University.



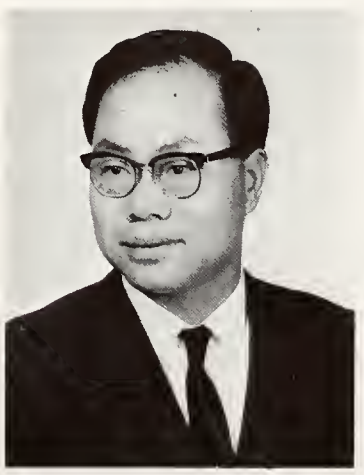
Peter Celms, Assistant Professor; A.B., Augustana College; M.A., Ph.D., Northwestern University.

Albert Hayden, Associate Professor; A.B., University of Illinois; M.A., Bucknell University; Ph.D., University of Wisconsin.

Melvin Laatsch, Professor; A.B., Gettysburg College; M.A., Ph.D., Princeton University.

Jeffery Mao, Associate Professor; A.B., Central Political Institute; M.A., University of Ottawa; M.A., Harvard University; Ph.D., University of Chicago.

Richard Ortquist, Assistant Professor; A.B., Hope College; M.A., University of Michigan.



Wei-Ping Wu, Assistant Professor; A.B., M.A., National Taiwan University; M.A., Harvard University.

Language

Chairman: Robert Moore, Professor; A.B., Wittenberg; Certificat des Etudes Universitaires, University of Bordeaux; Ph.D., John Hopkins University.

The central purpose of the Language department is to acquaint students with, and encourage interest in the language, customs, history, and literature of foreign countries. The department offers introductory courses in French, Spanish, German, Russian, Greek, and Latin. The course of study includes grammar, vocabulary, conversation, composition, and literature. Thus, the study of language can be seen as one of the important parts of a liberal arts education.

The general purpose of the language honoraries is to stimulate an interest in advanced studies in the field and to further an understanding between our nation and the nations using these languages.

Juan Favole, Assistant Professor; A.B., Havanna State College; B.S., U.S. Military Academy; M.A., University of Denver.

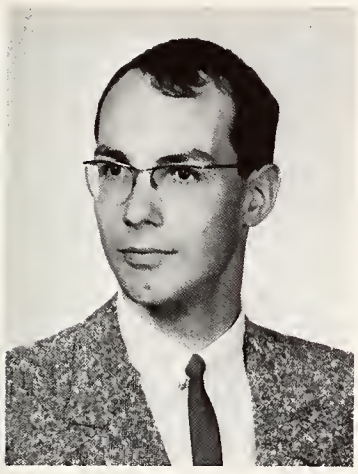
Kurt Fickert, Professor; A.B., Hofstra College; M.A., Ph.D., New York University.

Ruth Meister, Assistant Professor; A.B., Marietta College; M.A., Ohio State University.

Jacob Miller, Assistant Professor; A.B., Washington University; M.A., Boston University.

Elsa Audrieth, Instructor; Diploma, University of Heidelberg; M.A., University of Illinois.

Bette Lou Bakelaar, Assistant Professor; A.B., Wilson College; M.A., Middlebury College.

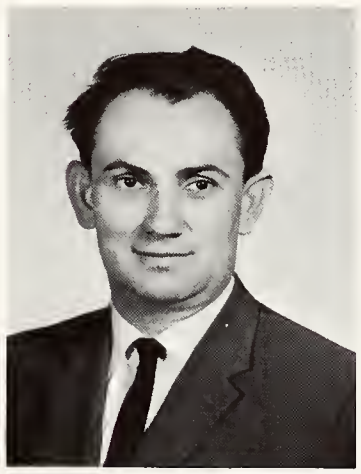


Jan Bender, Instructor, A.B., M.A., University of Nebraska.

George Berkhoffer, Instructor; A.B., University of Michigan; M.A., University of Illinois.

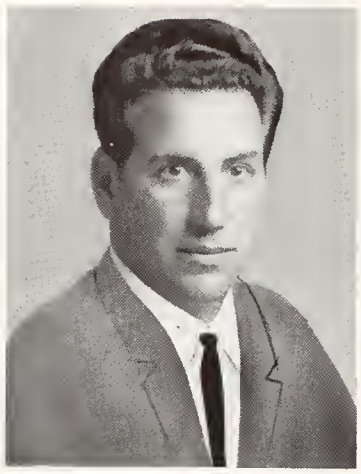
Heimtraut Dietrich, Assistant Professor; A.B., Beaver College; M.A., University of Pennsylvania.

Lynn Fickert, Instructor; A.B., Hofstra College.



Milan Fryscak, Assistant Professor; A.B., Palacky University; M.A., University of California.

Stanley Hamilton, Instructor; A.B., DePauw University; M.S., Indiana State University.



Manuel Iglesias, Assistant Professor; B.Ed., University of Miami; M.Ed., Florida Atlantic University; B.B.A., M.B.A., Ph.D., Escuela Sup. Gijon, Bilbao, Spain.

Robert Robertson, Assistant Professor; A.B., Charlotte College; A.B., University of North Carolina; M.A., University of Illinois.

Sylvia Tracy, Instructor; A.B., Wittenberg; M.A., Ohio State University.

Benjamin Vila, Associate Professor; B.S. and Arts, Instituto Ausias; Licenciado Flosofia Y Letras, University of Barcelona; M.D., University of Barcelona.

Music

Dean: L. David Miller, Professor; A.B., Mus.D., Lenoir Rhyne College; B.D., Lutheran Southern Seminary; M.S.M., Union Theological Seminary.

Occupying recently completed Krieg Hall, the Music department provides music courses, private instruction in applied music, sponsorship of numerous musical groups, and periodical concerts and recitals. In addition, the department offers a graduate degree program in sacred music. The department also sponsors a junior year study program in Germany.

During the summer of 1968, sixty-five members of the Wittenberg Choir toured South America for one month. They presented concerts in Columbia, Ecuador, Peru, Argentina, Chile, Uruguay, Brazil, Venezuela, and Puerto Rico.

Robert Howat, Assistant Professor; A.B., M.A., University of Chicago.

Michael Chang, Instructor; A.B., San Jose College; M.M., Indiana University.

Margret Kommel, Assistant Professor; B.S., B.Mus., Wittenberg; Graduate Diploma, Juilliard School of Music, M.A., Ohio State University.

William Walters, Associate Professor; B.Mus., Concordia College; M.A., Ph.D., Western Reserve University

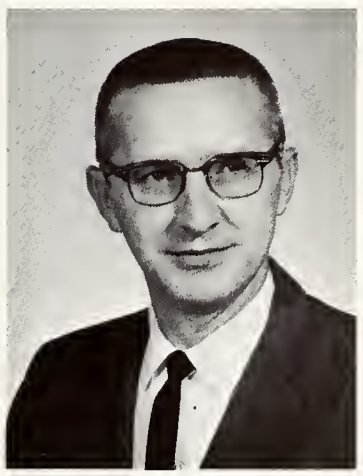
Jan Bender, Associate Professor; Leipzig State Academy; Oberrealschule, Lubeck; Staatskonservatorium, Lubeck.

Elmer Blackmer, Assistant Professor; B.S., Capital University; M.S.M., Union Theological Seminary.

Richard Butts, Assistant Professor; B.S., Ohio State University; M.S., Bowling Green State University.

Robert Dolbeer, Associate Professor; B.S., B.Mus., Wittenberg; M.Mus., Northwestern University.

John Ham, Professor; B.Mus., M.Mus., American Conservatory.

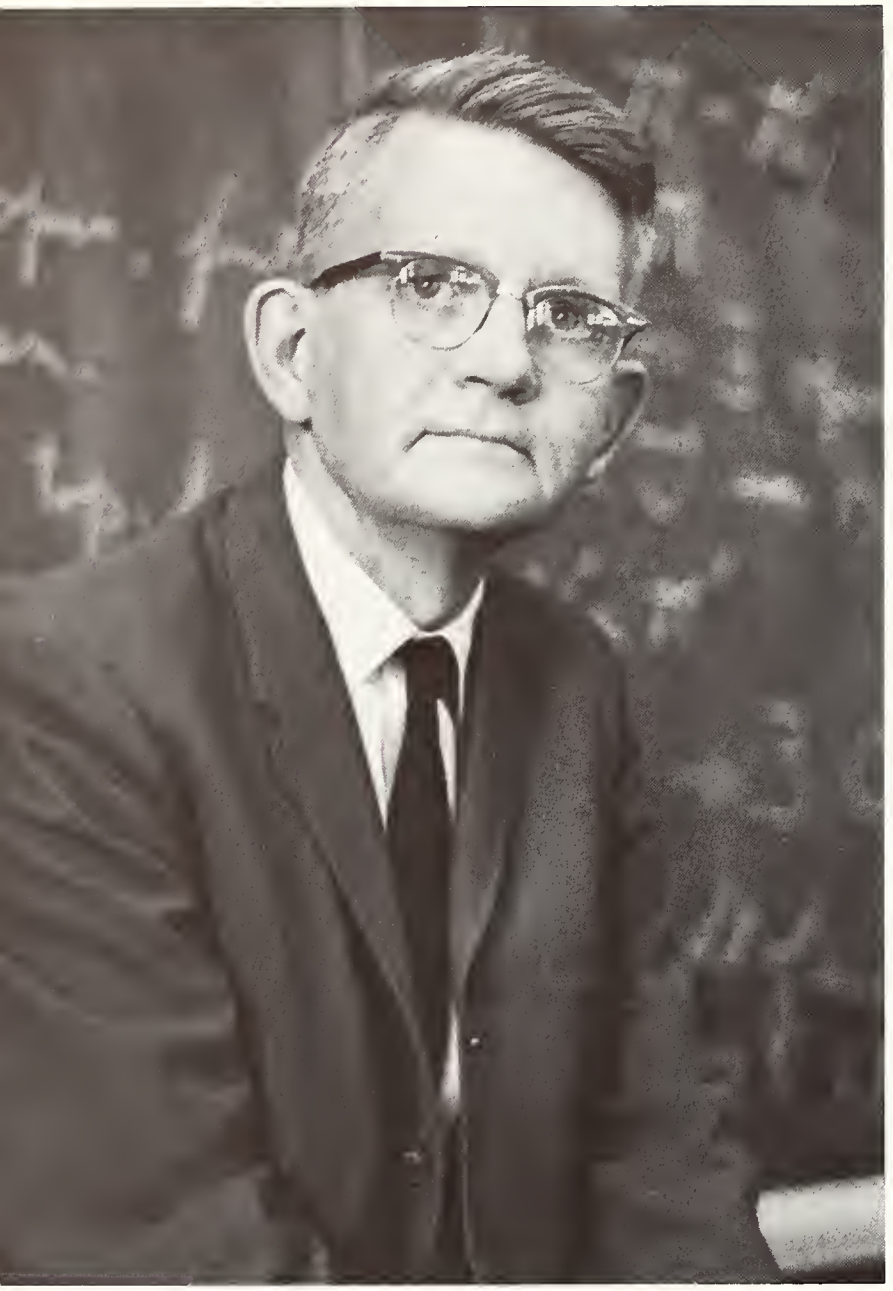


Frederick Jackish, Associate Professor; B.S., Concordia Teachers College; M.Mus., Northwestern University; Ph.D., Ohio State University.

Jackson Wiley, Lecturer; A.B., Yale University; M.A., Juilliard School of Music.

Robert Wynne, Assistant Professor; B.Mus., University of Kansas; M.A, Western Reserve University.

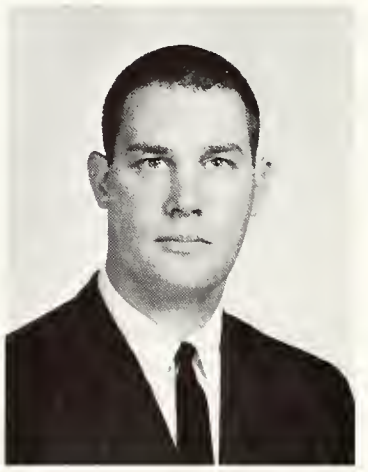
Mathematics



Chairman: Stanley Dice, Associate Professor; A.B., Oberlin College; M.Litt., University of Pittsburgh; Ph.D., University of Pittsburgh.

The Mathematics department strives to provide the mathematics major with the basic concepts of his field and adequate preparation for graduate studies, a career in teaching at the secondary level, or a math-oriented career in industry or government.

Through the mathematics colloquium, the junior and senior majors gain essential experience in studying independently and organizing their knowledge into a coherent form for oral presentation. The colloquium also provides an opportunity for becoming acquainted with areas of mathematics not included in the regular courses and for studying topics at greater depth than is possible in the classroom.



Robert Baer, Instructor; B.S., Wittenberg; M.S., Ohio State University.

Charles Baker, Instructor; B.S., M.S., Ohio University.

Norman Dodson, Associate Professor; A.B., Berea College; M.A., University of Alabama.

Richard Fine, Instructor; A.B., Gettysburg College; M.S., University of Minnesota.

S. Wilfred Hahn, Professor; A.B., Lenoir Rhyne College; M.A., Duke University; Ph.D., Duke University.

Eric Wilson, Assistant Professor; B.S., Westminster College; Ph.D., Vanderbilt University.

Philosophy

The Philosophy department offers courses in logic, ethics, aesthetics, history of philosophy, philosophy of science, and current issues. Further investigation into more specific philosophical topics is accomplished through seminars and independent study.

A growing department, the Philosophy department has, over the past year, increased in number and now has five full-time instructors and three part-time associates.

Acting Chairman: Visvaldis Klive, Associate Professor; A.B., Wittenberg; M.A., Columbia University; D.D., Union Theological Seminary; Ph.D., Columbia University.

Bruce Harris, Instructor; A.B., Drury College; M.A., University of Michigan.

Allan Ptnister, Professor; A.B., Augustana College; B.D., Augustana Theological Seminary; M.A., Ph.D., University of Chicago.

Robert Remsberg, Chairman on Sabbatical, Professor; A.B., M.A., Wittenberg; B.D., Hamma; Ph.D., Columbia University.

Psychology

Chairman: Henry Cross, Professor; B.A., Bethany Nazarene College; M.S., University of Oklahoma; Ph.D., Ohio State University.

The Psychology department seeks to make students aware of the experiences and behavior of others as well as their own. Due to additional space acquired by the department, a developmental laboratory in the form of a day care center on campus is in the planning. Also available for use is the animal laboratory and its equipment valued at $30,000, which was purchased by the matching grant program.

Active service in the community through visits to the Columbus State Hospital and the training of children in personal hygiene at the Town and Country School for Retarded Children is the concern of the national psychology honorary, Psi Chi.

John Abma, Associate Professor; A.B., Oberlin College; M.A., Michigan State University; Ph.D., Ohio State University.

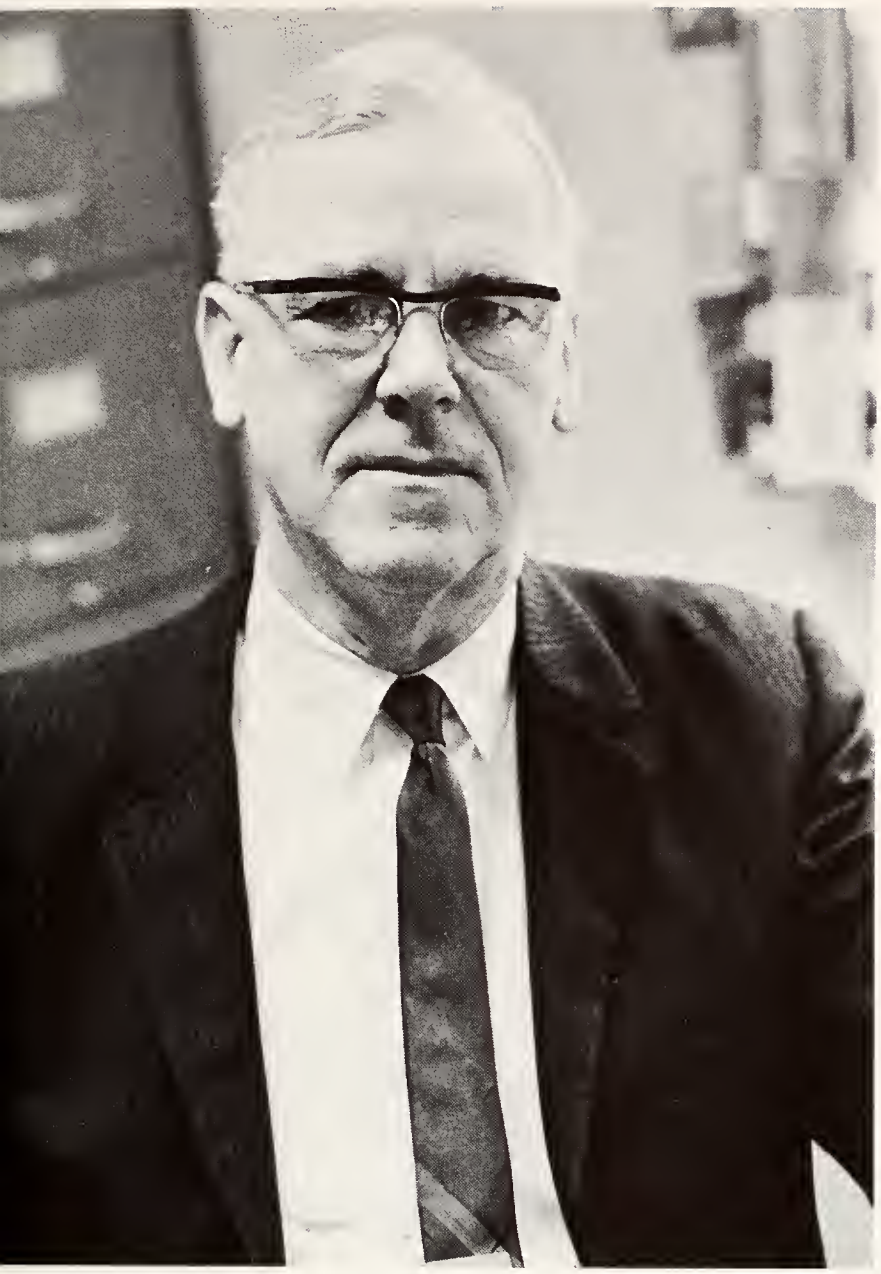
May Chu, Instructor; A.B., New Asia College; M.A., Michigan State University.

George Dudycha, Professor; B.A., Coe College; M.A., State University of Iowa; Ph.D., Columbia University.

Norman King, Assistant Professor; A.B., Capital University; M.A., Ph.D., Ohio State University.

Roland Roselius, Associate Professor, A.B., University of Dubuque; M.A., University of Nebraska; Ph.D., Ohio State University.

Religion

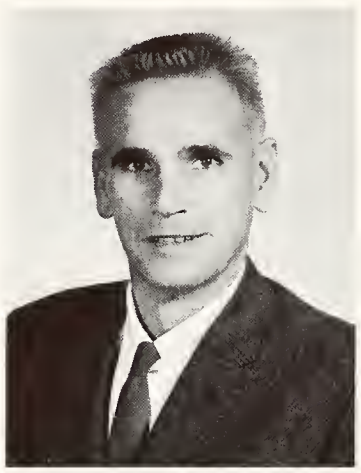


Chairman: Carl Shanor, Professor; A.B., Wittenberg; B.D., Hamma School of Theology; S.T.M., Hamma School of Theology; D.D., Wittenberg.

The Religion department offers four areas of study: Bible, History of Religions, History of Christian Thought, and Current Religious Thought. Seeking non-majors as well as majors (two religion courses are required of all students), the department tries to inject a greater sensitivity into the student's religious thought through basic understanding, criticism, and comparison of theological insights.

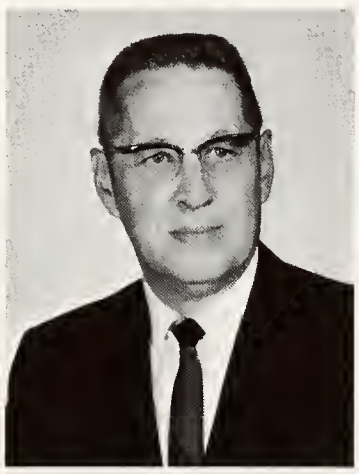
This year the department has been associated with eleven other universities in a consortium for the study of religions in higher education in south-west Ohio. The consortium has received a substantial grant from the Danforth Foundation to carry out its program which is designed to further the teaching of religion in higher education.

Richard Graef, Assistant Professor; B.A., Concordia Seminary; M.Th., Pacific Lutheran Seminary.



David Hartman, Assistant Professor; B.A., Wagner College; S.T.M., Chicago Lutheran Seminary.

Cora Klick, Assistant Professor; A.B., Elmhurst; B.D., Union Theological Seminary; Ph.D., University of Chicago.



Ralph Krueger, Associate Professor; A.B., Wittenberg; B.D., Hamma School of Theology; Litt.D., Midland College.

Eugene Swanger, Instructor; A.B., Capital University; B.D., Capital University Seminary; S.T.M., Oberlin College.

Herbert Wolf, Associate Professor; A.B., Johns Hopkins University; B.D., Lutheran Theological Seminary; M.A., University of Chicago.

Sociology

Chairman: F. James Schrag, Professor; A.B., Bethel College; B.D., Hartford Seminary; Ph.D., University of Chicago.

The Sociology department guides students to an understanding of man's behavior and culture in preparation for graduate study, social work, teaching, governmental work or merely facing the vast number of social problems before us today as responsible citizens. Visits to courts and correctional institutions, interviews with staffs of public and private agencies, and discussions with visiting resource speakers add dimension to the classroom lectures.

Within the department Dr. Bindman is the director of the Upward Bound program and Mr. Peterson is a member of the Clark County Children's Welfare Board. Dr. Schrag, Chairman of the Human Relations Committee, is also on the Urban League Advisory Board.

Especially active this year, the Sociology Club provided monthly programs on such subjects as racial minorities, criminology, and the urban problem. The club was also responsible for the appearance of Charles Taylor and instrumental in bringing Dick Gregory to speak during the seminar, "The Negro in America."

Aaron Bindman, Associate Professor; B.A., M.A., Ph.D., University of Illinois.

Edwin Boling, Assistant Professor; A.B., Mississippi College; B.D., Southern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Robert Merkel, Assistant Professor; A.B., Ohio Northern; M.A., Bowling Green State University.

Karl Peterson, Assistant Professor; A.B., Marietta College; M.A., Ohio State University.

Hamma

Hamma School of Theology

The primary purpose of Hamma is to train faithful and competent ministers in the Word of God. Even though it is solely supported by the Ohio Synod of the Lutheran Church in America, the school receives and encourages candidates from other Christian denominations to prepare for the ministry of their church.

For more than a century the seminary has not only prepared students for the ministry, but also has provided training for lay leaders and prepared other interested students for further graduate study and research in theology.

The course of study offered at Hamma is constructed to reach these various goals and depends upon an interrelated theological and educational approach. To this end, a new curriculum will take effect next year: the student will now spend a greater amount of time in the field than in the past. Hamma is now exploring the unique opportunities of an interfaith educational complex.

Sports

Football

Actually the season began back in May of '67 when "Beat Muskie" first appeared in red paint on Woodlawn Avenue. By September everyone knew that this game – the first meeting since 1960 – would make or break the season and probably decide the Ohio Conference football champion. Consequently, hundreds of Tiger fans put an early dent in their summer earnings to converge on Muskingum. Even the dedicated freshman counselor corps, despite Dean Dietrich's pleadings to the contrary, abandoned campus and the first early wave of freshmen that Saturday night.

The outcome was a sign of things to come. A brutal defense and a well-oiled passing attack produced a 21-0 shutout that ended Muskingum's 19 league game winning streak. Lopsided wins over Susquehanna and Central State followed, highlighted by freshman Darryl Herring's two touchdowns and a 62 yard punt return against Susquehanna. In these two games quarterbacks Laughman and Alt combined to throw 12 touchdown aerials.

FAR LEFT: A Tiger feels the crunch in the defensive struggle with Baldwin Wallace. LEFT: Throughout the season the aggressive defense set up many scores with plays such as this blocked goal-line punt. BELOW: Fred Mitchell booted four field goals and 31 extra points to lead the team in scoring.

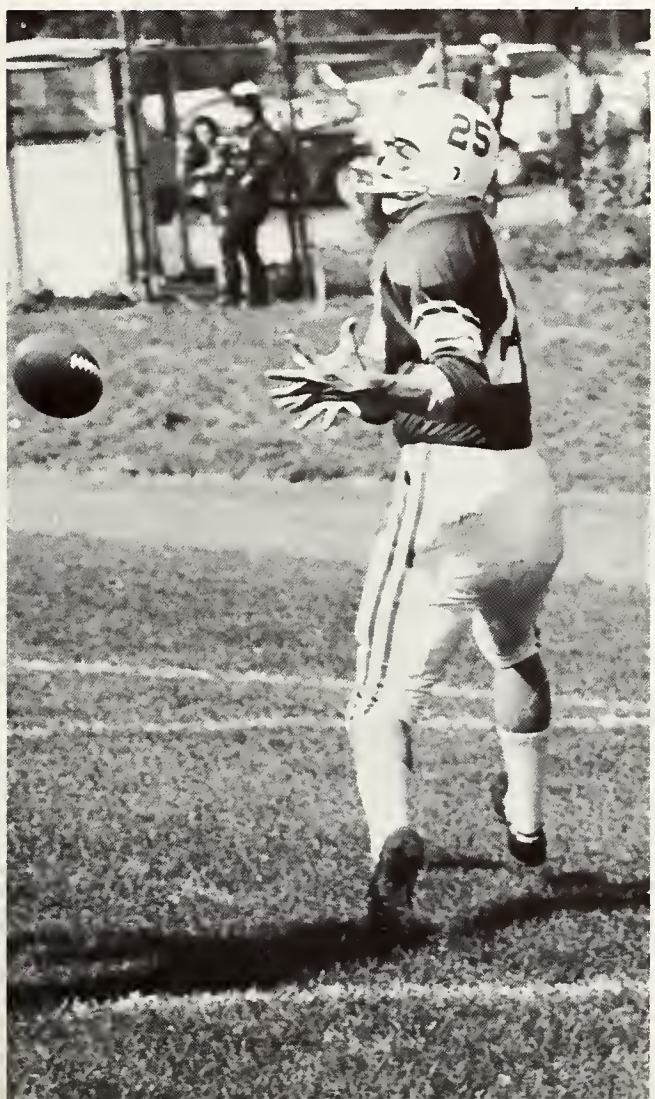
The defense starred in the next two games. Against Baldwin-Wallace the Checkmates set up two touchdown runs with a recovered punt and an interception. The Tiger defensive charge then held John Carroll to only 63 yards giving Coach Edwards his 12th straight Homecoming victory.



ABOVE: The Checkmates produced five shutouts with outstanding pursuit like this. LEFT: Mike Shearer, all alone in the end zone, waits to grab a Laughman pass for six points.

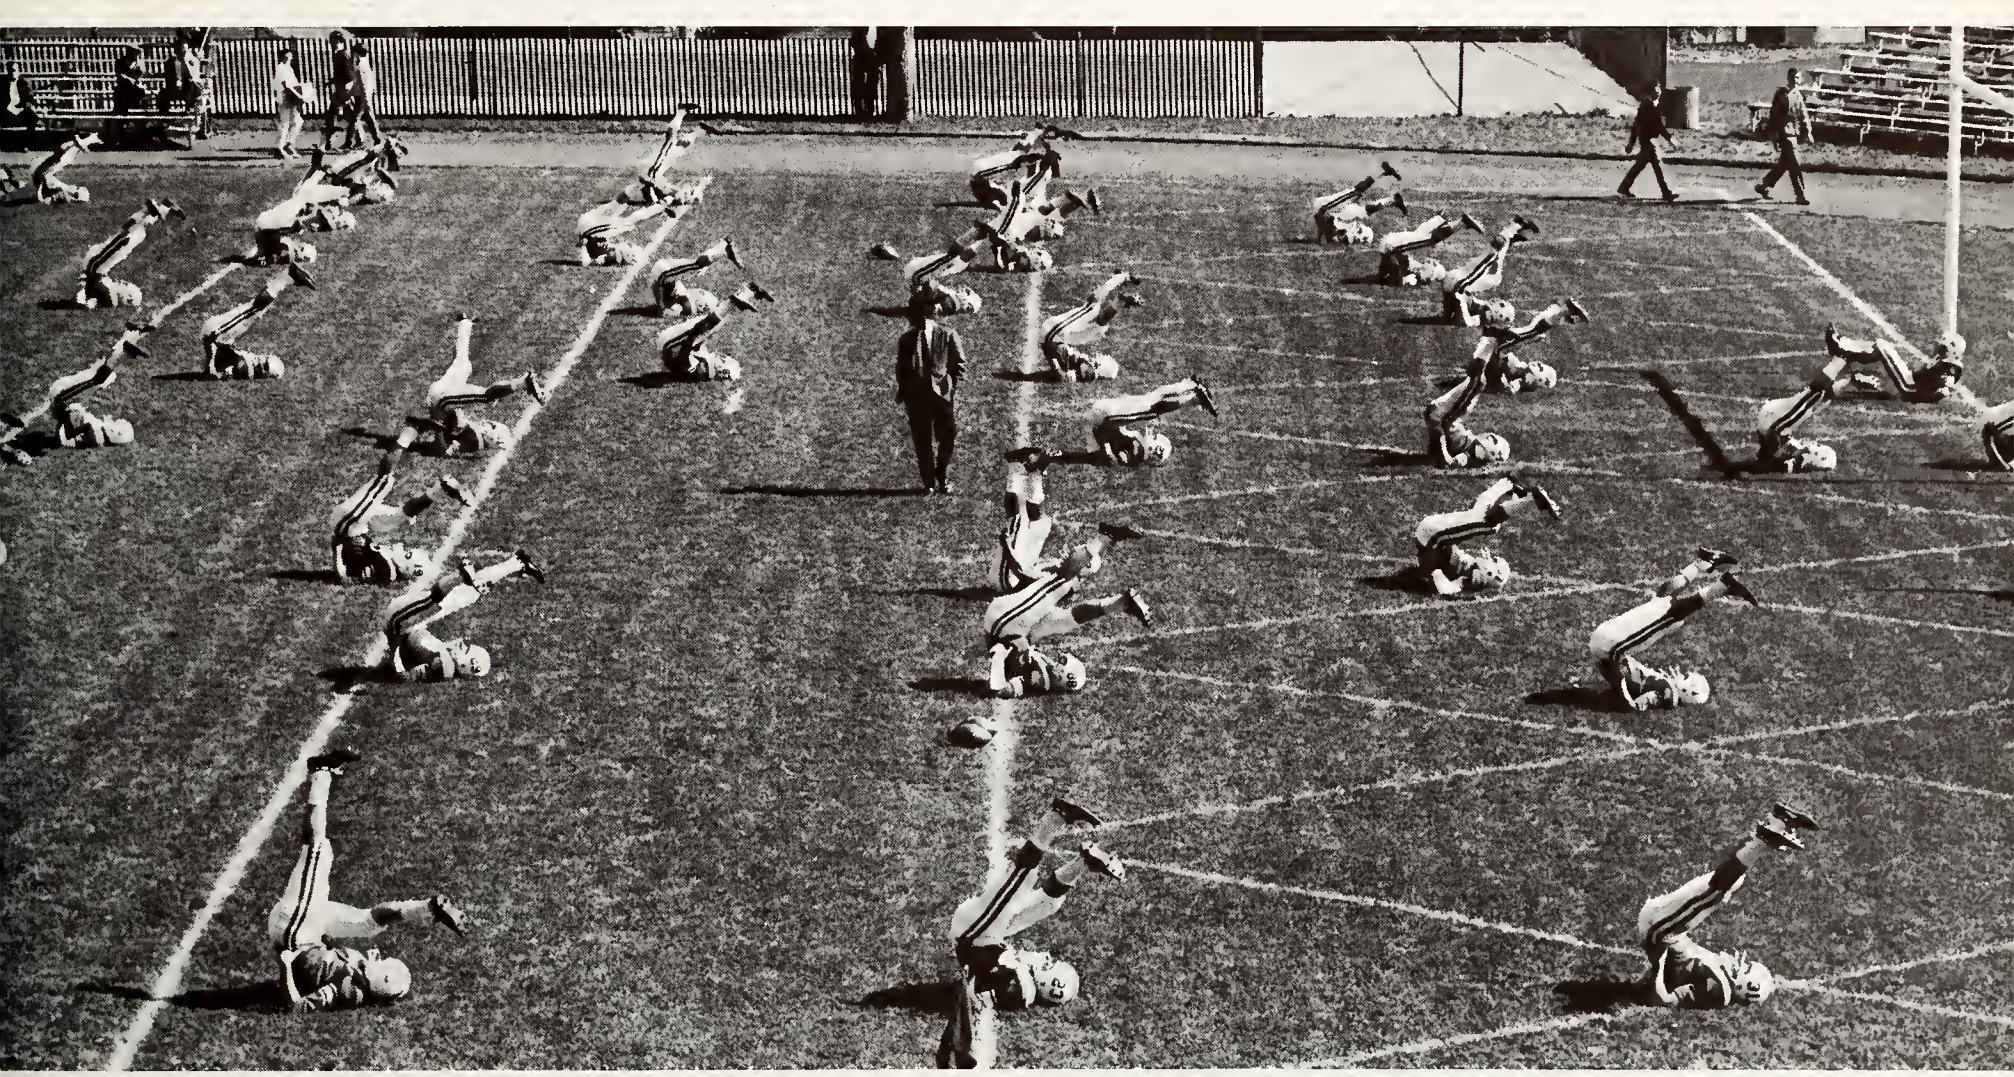
In the final game between the two teams, an aroused Ohio Wesleyan squad gained momentum from a third-period goal-line stand and handed the Tigers their first and only defeat. A 40-yard field goal proved the difference, and the "Old Indian Skull" left the W.U. Field House for the first time in eight years.

Switching from the passing game, the Tigers rolled up their highest rushing total in three seasons against Heidelberg. Jim Justice gained 110 of the 284 yards, and the defense held the Princes to 64 yards and four first downs.

In the Dad's Day Mud Bowl, the fired-up Tigers shutout Akron in a bitterly-contested game. A Laughman to Miller pass and sideline dash broke open the deadlock. Wittenberg finished the season by defeating the University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee.

TOP: Gene Laughman completed 106 of 187 passes for 1581 yards and 20 touchdowns. ABOVE: "Bull" and his assistants hold class at halftime.

As a team, the '67 Tigers finished 19th in the final U.P.I. poll. Rod Miller and Gene Laughman received All-American Honorable Mention. Miller also received the Mike Gregory Award as the outstanding lineman in the league. Most Valuable Players were Miller and Bob Harvey. Wittenberg dominated the All-Ohio Conference team as eight Tigers made the first team.



TOP: All-Ohio Conference quarterback Laughman sets the Tiger offensive attack. ABOVE: Players limber up before a Saturday afternoon game. LEFT: Coach Edwards and his five co-captains: Laughman, Miller, Harvey, Verminski, and Benne.

RIGHT: A spectacular tackle at the goal line. BELOW: A packed stadium and an apprehensive quarterback watch All-O.C. Jim Feltz (82) crash in.

BELOW: Umbrellas were the order-of-the-day when Wittenberg buried Akron in the Mud Bowl. BOTTOM: All-League end Rod Miller makes the turn down the sidelines with the assistance of a big block and takes Laughman's pass into paydirt to break the scoreless tie with Akron.

Cross Country

Coached by Eldon Miller, the cross country team ran to a 2-2 dual meet record. The Tigers also placed sixth in the Crusader Classic and second in a triangular meet with Ohio Wesleyan and Otterbein.

In the Ohio Conference championship meet Wittenberg finished ninth with 197 points. M.V.P. Wayne Tompkins placed 14th, Captain Todd Clard 33rd, Bill Hohnhorst 44th, Rick Frye 45th, and Bill Foster 61st.

RIGHT: The start of a race finds everyone scrambling for position. BELOW: Determined Rick Frye makes his move against Ohio Northern.

In their first year as a varsity sport, the Wittenberg soccer team won two and lost six under head coach Steve Farrar. The 1967 team was led by Senior Bob Heffer who was the team's leading scorer with seven points and was voted the Most Valuable Player.

Randy White was voted the team's Most Improved Player and was named co-captain along with Al Lodge for 1968.

Basketball

Hurt by inexperience and a lack of depth, the Tiger basketball team finished with 13 wins and 13 losses. Coach Miller had only Levi Wingard and Don Corfman back from last year's Ohio Conference championship team.

Inconsistent play marked the season in which the Tigers wound up sixth in the O.C. with an 8-5 record. The first 15 games were all fairly close, but the team could never win two in a row. The absence of aggressive Tyrone Curry due to a bruised thigh muscle definitely hurt the Tigers in this erratic period.

LEFT: Coach Eldon Miller exhorted his young team throughout the up-and-down season. ABOVE: Miller plots strategy at halftime with All-O.C. Stan Starkey, top rebounder Levi Wingard, and M.V.P. Tim Thomas. Miller reached a personal milestone during the season: his victory over O.W.U. was his 100th win.

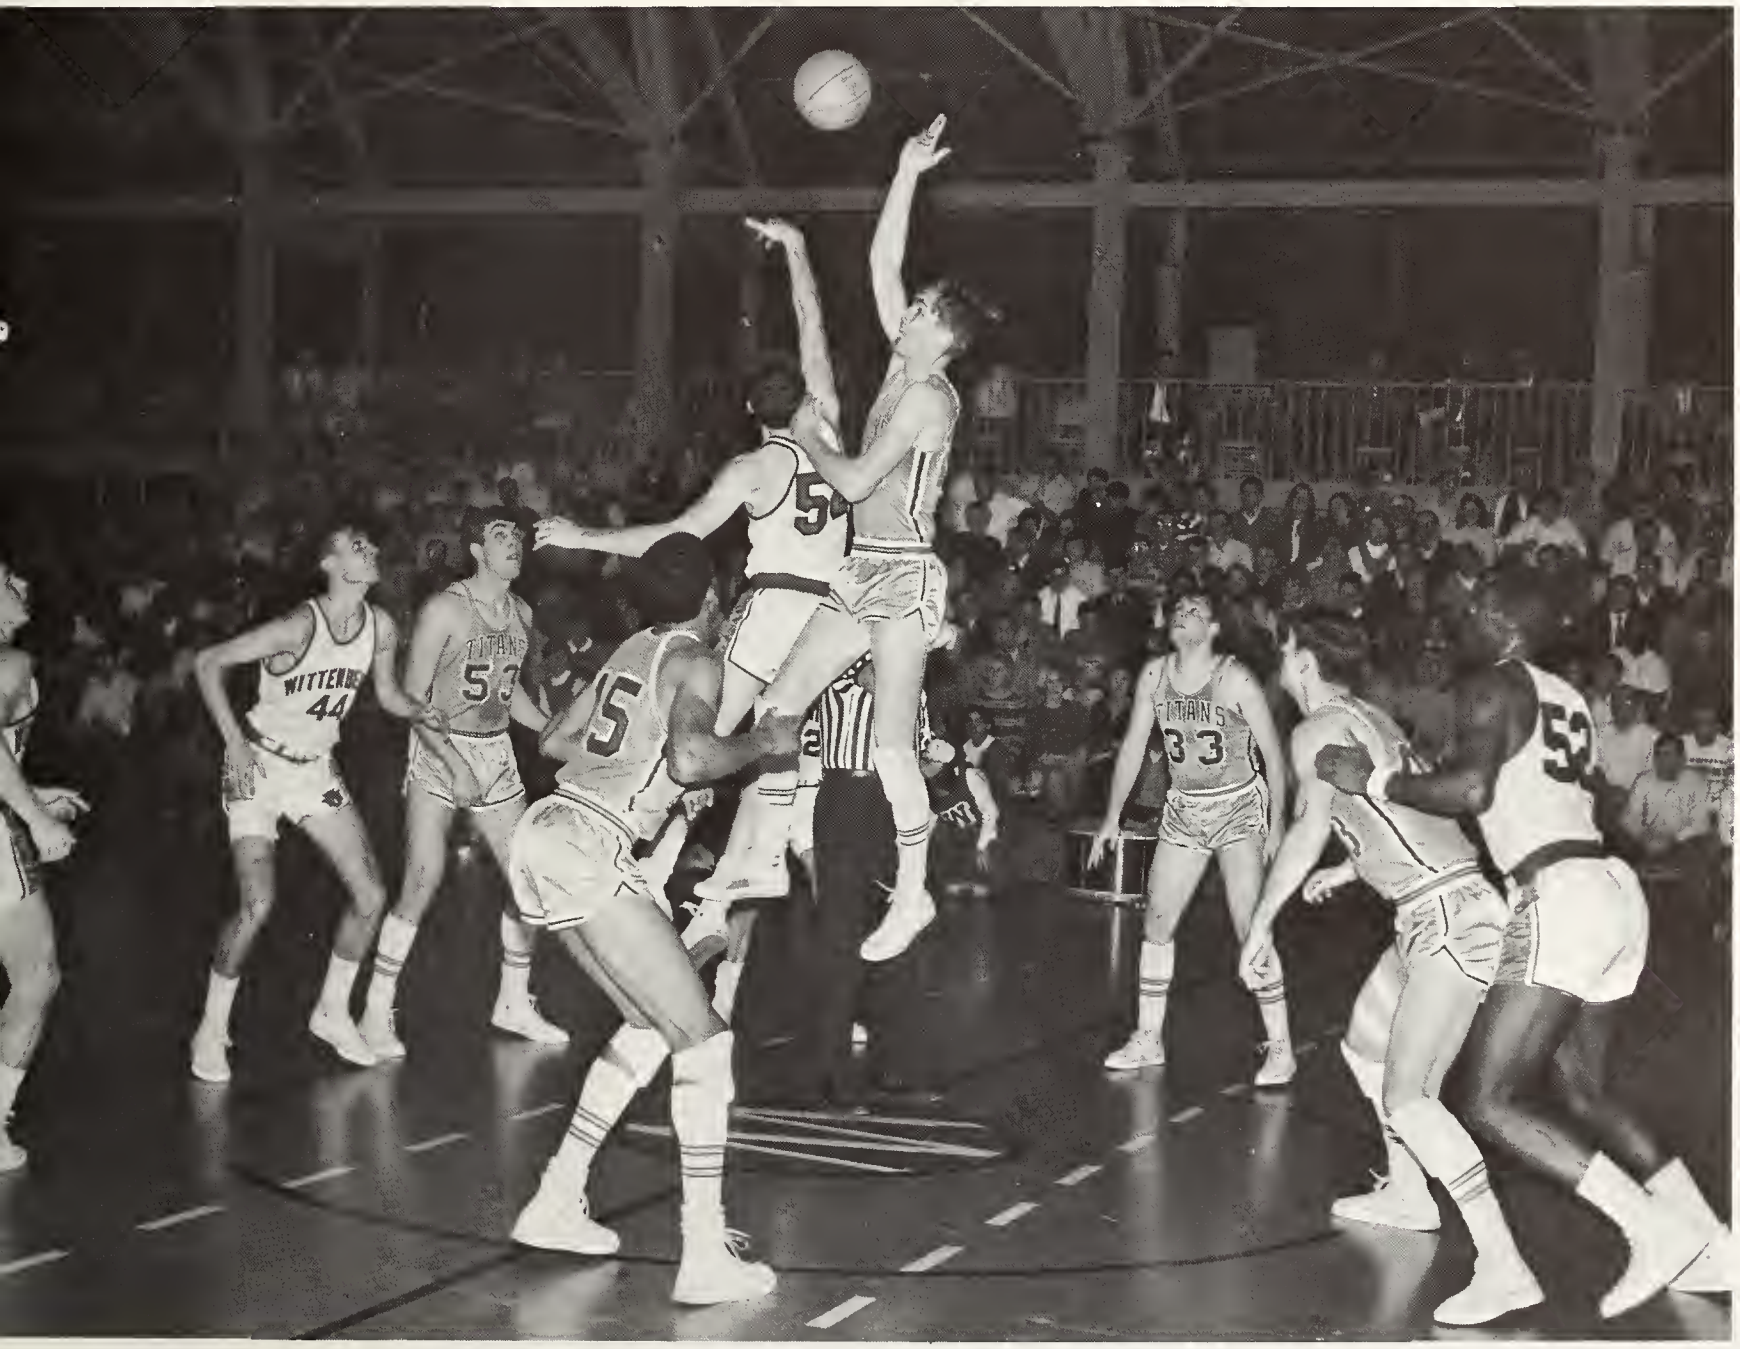
January saw the Wittenberg basketball team hand the Kenyon Lords their first conference defeat in a thrilling 73-72 decision. Yet soon after, the Tigers lost by two to Hiram and then by four to tough Ashland. Six wins in the last nine games pushed Wittenberg to its final 13-13 record.

The highpoint of the season came in the twelfth game when the Tigers handed NAIA champion Central State a 60-58 defeat.

Stan Starkey and Tim Thomas were the team leaders. The forward-guard combination combined to lead the team in scoring in 22 of the 26 games. Starkey also led the team with a 17.7 scoring average and a 500 field goal percentage. Over the season he recorded the third-highest point total in school history with 461 points. Thomas, who averaged 11.9 points, was the playmaker and Most Valuable Player.

As a team, the Tigers had a defensive average of 64.6 and made the finals of the Southern Division in the O.C. tournament.

LEFT: Don Corfman and Duane Harris battle each other for a rebound in the loss to Westminster. BELOW: Corfman gets fouled in a jump-ball situation.



ABOVE: Ninth in O.C. player scoring, Stan Starkey averaged 17.7 points a game to lead the Tigers.

Swimming

First year coach Carl Berg guided the 1968 swimmers to a 7-3 season record and a fourth place in the Ohio Conference Championships. Don Lambacher, Bill Musser, Trevor Buehler, and George Heath won All-American honors by placing in the N.C.A.A. meet. M.V.P. Buehler was the team's leading scorer and Ohio Conference Champion in the 200 Individual Medley. In the N.C.A.A. College Division Championships, Wittenberg placed 22nd in a field of 87 with 22 points.

Wittenberg's wrestling squad won four, lost four and tied one match under first year coach, Gary Tranquill. Bill Ralston, 111 pound class, led the team in total points with 32 including four pins. Ralston was followed in the total points category by Jeff Connelly (7-2, 27), Mike Caruso (6-1-2, 24), Dan DeGood (5-4, 23), and Dick Brown (5-4, 19), respectively.

Ralston, with his 8-1 season record, was voted the team's Most Valuable Player. He also led the Tigers to a seventh place finish in the Ohio Conference Meet.

Winning their seventh Ohio Conference championship with a 6-1 league mark, the Wittenberg baseball team was 10-3 overall. Although rain washed out 12 of the 22 games schedúled, the season was extended by the N.C.A.A. Mid-East Tournament. Here, the Tigers lost in double elimination to champion Delta State and Illinois State.

Mike Shearer (.414) and Dave George (.400) were the leading hitters while Rocky Alt was the league's fourth-leading pitcher with a 1.38 earned run average.

Wittenberg also was second in the league with a .289 team batting average and a 1.94 pitching record. The Tigers were third in fielding with a .952 mark.

The fourth, fifth, and sixth singles players — Starkey, Ward, Grimes, and Block — were the main-stays of the team, having an overall record of 26-6 as compared to the first three players' 15-13 slate.

All the doubles teams stood out as their overall record was 26-4. Grimes and Block were undefeated in the regular season and won the conference meet title at third doubles. Grimes finished highest in conference singles, placing second. As a team, Wittenberg finished third behind winner Denison and Oberlin.

Paced by junior standout and M.V.P. Dave Helm, the Wittenberg track team showed great improvement to place fifth in the O.C. championship meet and finish 4-4 for the season. At the conference meet Helm won the long jump, Bill Bibbee was second in the shot put and discus, and Greg Furlong was third in the discus.

For the season Helm contributed 114.5 points; Hanneman, 83.25 (hurdles); Bibbee, 48 (weights); Lake and Meyer, 74 (440). Coach Murphy loses only three men from the 19-man squad and has all four conference winners back next year.

For the second consecutive year, the women's intercollegiate volleyball team posted an undefeated season. By winning all eight matches, the coeds extended their winning streak to 17 matches. Next year looks bright, as the second team also went undefeated.

Spring sports at Wittenberg had the distinct problem of constantly being rained out. For this reason the softball team managed only one game; the golf team was rained out of its only scheduled match.

In the Ohio College Women's Tennis Tournament held at Wittenberg, two Tiger singles players and one doubles team reached the semi-finals.

Next year, the bowling club will become the seventh Wittenberg women's intercollegiate sport.

The 1967-68 year really began for Chi chapter when it received the Best Chapter award at the national convention in Vancouver, Canada in July. The award provided the impetus for another busy but rewarding year, beginning with the washing machine homecoming display and the annual Black Diamond Winter Formal. Second term, twenty-two new pledges joined the ranks at 1019 N. Fountain.

Chi was well represented in various campus activities and honoraries throughout the year. In May Judy Moist was chosen to be an Alma Mater candidate. Spring term also brought the annual party for underprivileged children from Springfield and the Senior Farewell Banquet.

The Alpha Xis at Wittenberg shared many enjoyable and rewarding times throughout the year. Actives and pledges began the year by building the homecoming display "Up, Up, and Away to Victory." Other activities included two pledge dances, the annual Rose Dinner Dance, and the spring formal weekend. The winter pledge class, twenty-two strong, added to the spirit of fun and friendship of Alpha Xi, especially by their enthusiastic donation of house silverware to the Phi Psis.

Not neglecting community service, Zeta Chapter held a Snoopy Party for the children at the Clark County Home. Members of the group continued the chapter's active participation in campus affairs; 1967-68 saw Karen Muetzel as President of Pan-Hel and Kitty Woods presiding over Mortar Board. Other sisters worked, sang, and studied in England, Mexico and Canada.

Five new pledges were the first of many highlights for Chi Omega. Soon after pledging, a personable and pudgy pig roared in with "Root Hog or Die" to brighten up Homecoming at the Chi O house. December brought a unique rendition of Santa Claus at our Christmas party, as well as a chapter dinner. In January twenty-five new pledges joined us in time to enjoy our winter informal "Snow Job." Three months later, Tau Gamma was honored at Chi-O-Hio Day for achieving the highest scholarship of any Chi O chapter in Ohio.

The year saw Chi Omegas serving as president of Union Board, secretary of Student Senate, and participating in Ivy Ring, Syncopates, and Shifters among other activities. In the third term Chi O was honored when a sister was chosen to be a candidate for Alma Mater. Next fall we will move into the new addition to our house.

The Delta Gamma anchor clankers returned to Witt and started the year with a Homecoming Queen and a third place trophy for the homecoming display. Thanks to the new fall pledges the annual pumpkin carolling for the Stauffers, the faculty, and the Greek houses took on a new look this year with pumpkins carved into anchor faces. Winter came, and D.G.s were still clanking out their message, helped by twenty-eight new pledges who were formally welcomed at our Anchor Cotillion.

Along with spring came new officers who were installed at the Founder's Day Banquet. By pulling a little harder and eating pies a little faster, the D.G.-Figi combination brought home a first place in the Greek Week Games with ample strength left over for the annual Hoagy sale, the Groovin Grubby pledge dance, and a spring formal.

The Fall Term of 1967-68 greeted the Delta Zeta's with a class of six singing pledges. Homecoming heard the sounds of "Bye, Bye Blue-Streaks!" as our road runner rolled over a John Carroll blue streak. The DZ house was then transformed into a "Hofbrauhaus" for our pledge dance; December winds accompanied our winter formal of "Midnight Frost." Before finals, the DZ's turned their talents to candle making, producing some rare art pieces that were profitably auctioned off to our members as a philanthropies project. January rush brought us another class of happy pledges.

We now have a foster child, Ho Chun Lan, who lives with her family in Hong Kong. Besides the first place trophy in women's intramural volleyball, DZ boasts the presidents of five campus organizations and has several members initiated into campus honoraries. Spring saw the house as the scene of a sweetheart dinner given in honor of their lavaliere-mates, pin-mates, and fiancés and the addition of a first place trophy in the sorority sing as the Delta Zeta's beautifully sang "Impossible Dream."

The Gamma Phi's have had a very fulfilling and successful year. Fall term began with eight new pledges, a pledge dance, and a second place trophy for our Homecoming display. The term ended with the Gamma Phi's singing in the Christmas program in Weaver Chapel. During the winter term, twenty-five more pledges joined the sisterhood. A winter formal and another pledge dance were the activities for the term. Greek Week started the Gamma Phi's off to a rewarding spring term. For the second successive year, the chapter was honored when Jan Ward was elected Greek Week Queen. The award for the best costumes at the Greek Week Banquet also went to the Gamma Phi's.

One of the community service projects in which we participated was sending underprivileged children to the Shrine Circus. Our spring informal consisted of a street dance with the Beta's and a trip to Cincinnati on the "Jubilee" riverboat. Honors came once again when sisters were tapped for Ivy Ring, Mortar Board, and Shifters. Gamma Phi also made a fine showing at the sorority sing, placing second. One of the biggest thrills for the Gamma Phi's this year, however, was to see Julia Remsberg crowned Alma Mater.

The Alpha Nu chapter of Kappa Delta won many honors in 1967-68. In October a sister was a Homecoming queen finalist, and together the KD's built a Homecoming display which took the first place trophy for the second year in a row.

Other honors included a Junior-Senior Prom Queen finalist, a Greek Week Queen finalist, and sisters in many campus organizations and honoraries. In the spring, after adding twenty-three new members, Kappa Delta captured third place in the annual sorority sing.

The 1967-68 school year began with the Sigma's welcoming eight of the members back from spending the summer abroad. Added excitement came with the building of our "Lick 'em" puppy for Homecoming and the election of Renee Druckenmiller as a Homecoming Queen finalist. The chapter also worked throughout the year on our service project of entertaining and visiting the local IOOF Home and giving the residents a Thanksgiving and a Christmas party.

The winter term began with the announcement that Gamma Omega was the recipient of two awards from the National — one for scholarship, and the other for having had 100% initiation last year. The social aspect of Sigma Kappa was still very evident with our participation in Greek Week, a Frankenstein's Birthday Party with the Delta Sig's, and a Bonnie and Clyde Spring Pledge Dance. We ended the year with our second annual Parents' Weekend banquet and our beautifully successful spring formal, Camelot.

Football, paper dresses and the homecoming display greeted the ATO's on their return to Wittenberg. While many Taus helped smash opponents on the gridiron, an intramural team of rookies nearly copped the intramural crown. After an unsuccessful attempt at cheerleading, the men of Alpha Psi turned their endeavors to the intellectual spectrum. In pursuing the elusive All Men's Average, six Taus made the Dean's List. Brothers also held seven student senate and class officers. Not neglecting community concern, the Taus held an orphan party with the Chi O's at Christmas and helped to rebuild the VFW plumbing system.

The spring found the ATO's throwing water balloons, retiring to Snyder Park on weekends for softball games, and airing blankets in preparation for Spring Weekend. The Taus looked back upon a year of fun and achievement, in keeping with the ATO motto: "The Tigers of wrath are wiser than the horses of instruction."

Celebrating its 100th anniversary at Wittenberg, Apha Gamma Chapter of Beta Theta Pi concluded another success-filled year in 1967-68. Our candidate, Beta sweetheart Ann Larson, was chosen Homecoming Queen, and the Beta's captured second place in the Homecoming display competition. On November 11, 1967, Apha Gamma celebrated its Centennial with a banquet, having as honored guest and featured speaker F. M. Rich, president of Beta Theta Pi. A pledge class of nine sophomores was initiated in the fall, as were nine men in the spring. Spring also saw the Beta's place third in the Fraternity Sing.

Ranking high in intramurals, the Betas also had men on every Varsity intercollegiate team, excluding track. Al Lodge and Randy White were elected co-captains of the Soccer squad. Pedge dances, the traditional Honeymoon Party and Shipwreck Party, and our Spring Weekend highlighted our social calender.

Beta's were very active in campus honoraries and organizations, as evidenced by the presidencies of the Junior Class, the Interfraternity Council and other campus organizations. In addition, Beta Theta Pi placed high in the scholarship competition and was active in the Interfraternity Council's service projects.

Beginning in the Fall with a new housemother, Mrs. Audrey Kinnison, the Delta Sigs embarked on what was to become one of the most encouraging and fruitful years in the fraternity's history. The Sigs first won a trophy for their fine Homecoming display. Then followed a pajama party (complete with Justice of the Peace) and the traditional Sailors' Ball (complete with sailors marooned on a South Sea Island with beautiful native girls).

During the second term, an enthusiastic rush program pledged and activated 24 new brothers, nearly doubling the size of the chapter. With this "new blood" came plans for an extensive house remodeling project — which occupied much of the chapter's time during Spring Term. Time out was taken, however, for the Spring formal and for visits from the National President and Executive Secretary. The term was also highlighted by a second place honor in the annual Fraternity Sing.

For Lambda Chi Alpha, 1967-68 was a significant year for growth and success. In the past year the brotherhood grew to within three of the limit set by I.F.C., a situation which sparked our five-year plan for a new house at an approximate cost of $250,000. Rising from seventh, the Choppers racked up two firsts and a second in scholarship for the last three consecutive terms. Success also came in the form of several awards from national for outstanding public relations — including the Spaghetti Dinner, Freshman Women's Tea, Faculty Children's Easter Egg Hunt, and the annual Public Service Project. The Chapter also captured first place in the fraternity sing.

Achievement best describes Sigma Chapter in 1967-68. Foremost among the year's accomplishments was the return of the IFC Scholarship trophy to 20 W. Ferncliff Pl. for the second time in three years. Another big first for the chapter came in the Greek Week games, where the Fiji's and D.G.'s teamed up to defeat all other contestants.

Phi Gams were also very active in campus affairs with athletics heading the list. They were represented in every varsity sport except golf. Fiji's were especially prominent in football, cross country and track, and baseball. Represented in various honoraries, Phi Gamma Delta also had a brother as editor of the Torch. Social service was diversified, ranging from a talent show at the Clark County Home to an orphan's picnic held along with the ADPi's. Above all, the year was a social success, once again featuring the ever-amazing Huncie for three memorable evenings.

The traditional Fiji Island party ended the year.

Phi Kappa Psi, eighty-two strong, started off another year by capturing first place in the Homecoming display contest. Once again the Phi Psis were among the fraternity leaders in scholarship, posting twelve four-pointers. Although academic-minded, the men on Ward Street were well represented in all intercollegiate sports, having the captains of the football, baseball, and track teams.

The social calendar was highlighted by several events including two pledge dances, a Roman toga party, a Vietnam party, a viking party, and the annual Spring weekend. Working at the Town and Country Day Camp and participating in the annual Heart Fund drive comprised the Phi Psis Service projects for the year.

Mu Delta Chapter of Phi Mu Delta experienced another fine year. Especially outstanding in sports, Phi Mu's filled fifty-four positions on varsity and reserve teams. Post-season honors included both 1968 football captains, two All-American swimmers, and the most valuable lacrosse player and wrestler. The "Maroon Tide" also captured the intramural All-Sports trophy.

Social activities included the winter formal, the spring "Sweetheart Weekend" and the selection of a Phi Mu as "Mr. Greek."

Celebrating its centennial anniversary, Pi Kappa Alpha hosted the District Fifteen Convention, a meeting which proved to be very successful in the areas of pledge training, chapter finance, fraternity service, and social calendar.

Although a small chapter, Gamma Zeta of Pi Kappa Alpha has a diversified brotherhood. A large percentage of the chapter has been tapped for national honoraries. And, as in the past, the Pikes continued their excellence in athletics by finishing with an overall winning record, highlighted by their successful defense of the softball championship. During the year the Pikes continued the pursuit of their primary objective: providing brothers with a full and meaningful social experience. Consequently, two full weekend formals, two pledge dances, and many house parties were held.

To meet the changing climate of Wittenberg, the Pikes revolutionized their pledge education program. The new eight-week pledgehood attracted seventeen men.

Produced.by students for students, this book is an attempt to critically look inside Wittenberg University from September 1967 to June 1968.

Many people helped me with the book, but none more so than Karen Jopperi. She lived with the book from the earliest formulations to its last completed triplicate form; many of her ideas and thoughts are a part of the record. I can never repay all the help and encouragement Karen constantly gave to me.

Two others who lived with much of the book were my roommates Bill Bean and John Roesch. They not only helped whenever possible, but also answered innumerable phone calls for me.

Much of the summer work could not have been accomplished without the tireless and valuable help of my mother, my brother Brian, and Lowell Lamb.

I also am greatly indebted to all the section editors; Karen Zaugg, (Copy), Lary Regula, (Layout), Karen Jopperi, (Classes), Leslie Kaiser, (Index), Barb Canfield, (Greeks), Sig Beier, (Organizations), Sue Drugmand, (Senior Directory), John Roesch, (Hamma), Darrolyn Ross, (Calendar), Sue Nelson, (Faculty), and Fred Mitchell, (Sports). Special thanks also go to Cyril Hurnyak, who sacrificed so much of his time to take many great photographs, and to Barb Mohns, who was the extremely capable business manager. Additional thanks also go to the general staff and numerous others, without whose help production of the book would have been impossible.

A final note of thanks to Jim Voris, campus photographer; to Hedy, his tremendous assistant; to Ken Dickerson, yearbook advisor, to Karen Muetzel, last year's editor; and to Terry Hirtzinger, Taylor's representative.
